West Feels Certain Molotov Will Agree; Bulganin Accepts Invitation of Nehru

Premier Is Ready for India Trip

Minister Keeps Topics Secret

Moscow, June 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru announced today he has invited Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin to visit India and Bulganin has accepted.

The Indian leader said no date has been set for the visit, but that it is usual for foreigners to visit India in the winter. The implication was that Bulganin would not make the trip this summer.

NEHRU MADE the announcement at a new conference in the Spiridonavka Palace immediately after talking with Bulganin in the Kremlin.

He went from the news conference to talk at a mass rally in the Dynamo Stadium, where more than 100,000 Soviet citizens heard the first public address made in Moscow by a non-Communist statesman since the 1917 revolution.

Nehru declined to reveal the specific topics of his talk with Belganin today or of the talks he held with Bulganin and Molotov two weeks ago.

"AS BETWEEN India and the Soviet Union," he said, "there are no specific problems to discuss but many of common interest including peace, disarmament and Indochina."

He pointed out that the Soviet Union and Great Britain are co-chairmen of the armistice commission in Indochina.

In reply to a question, Nehru said he may go to London after leaving Moscow.

"I am not sure whether I am going to London but there is that possibility," he said.

WHILE DECLINING to give specific details of his conversations, Nehru said that he and the Soviet government probably would issue a joint statement before his scheduled departure Thursday morning.

Nehru was asked many questions about reducing international tension and about the forthcoming Big Four Summit parley.

Regarding the Geneva talks, he declared, "we all hope this will help, not in solving problems, but in finding a way toward their solution."

Asked what specific questions he thought ought to be discussed by Bulganin, President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Edgar Faure, Nehru said:

"I THINK any subject which at present creates tension should be taken up. One of these is the Far Eastern situation. Whether Indochina will come up I do not know, that depends on circumstances. There no doubt will be European problems subject to friendly discussions—not with a view to sudden decisions but rather clearing that path for future detailed consideration."

The Communist party newspaper Pravda has kept up a steady stream of anti-American articles during Nehru's tour of the Soviet Union. When a Pravda correspondent identified himself today and asked Nehru what measures should be taken to reduce international tension the Indian prime minister replied:

"WE SHOULD become friendly to each other and not say unfriendly things about each

Argentina Is Still Under Army Control

Buenos Aires, Argentina, June 21 (AP)—With President Juan Peron keeping to the background, Army Minister Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero continued today to direct the campaign to restore full peace to this nation left tense by revolt.

The balding, square-jawed supreme commander, holding the top role in the post-revolutionary period, said again in a communique early today that the situation is "steadily normalizing without any inconveniences."

THERE IS NO sign as to when the expected reorganization of the government will come, nor any reliable information as to the extent of such a reshuffle. Rumors about possible juntas of three or five men are just speculation as of today.

(News dispatches from Argentina have been subject to censorship since last Thursday's revolt by navy fliers and marines. Argentine refugees in Montevideo, Uruguay, believe negotiations are now underway in Buenos Aires to set up a three-man junta—including Peron—to rule the nation. The other two members reportedly would be Lucero and Rear Admiral Alberto Teisaire, the vice president.)

As head of the nation's armed forces, Lucero spread his control over all activities of the country, which is still under a state of siege. Despite the strict army checks, most of Buenos Aires had the appearance of normalcy.

THE FIRST AMERICAN casualty of last week's brief but bloody fighting in the capital was reported last night. He was Graham E. Tune, a Detroit industrial engineer employed by the Kaiser Motor Corp.'s new Argentine subsidiary. Company officials found and identified his body in a city morgue yesterday. They said a bomb apparently had dropped near him.

Despite Lucero's protestations of returning normalcy, his communique for the second successive day warned the public against rumors of continuing conflict. As he had before, Lucero termed these "completely false" but admitted that they had "increased considerably."

THE COMMUNIQUE reported that 18 planes used by the rebels in bombing government sites had been flown back from Uruguay,

Salk Burden Is On Scheele, Says Welfare Secretary

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Hobby said last night she bears no responsibility for the government's actions in the Salk polio vaccine situation. She said the law places that burden on Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele.

In a radio interview, Mrs. Hobby emphasized that she was not dissatisfied with Scheele's actions. But she made repeated distinctions between the responsibilities of her department and those of the public health service, a Welfare Department Agency headed by Scheele.

ASKED IF she had any apologies for the way the vaccine program has been handled, or would with hindsight have acted differently, Mrs. Hobby said:

"There is nothing I could have done differently. The law (on control of biologicals such as the Salk vaccine) charged the public health service and not the secretary."

At another point, she said she would be legally powerless to overrule Scheele if she thought he had made a mistake.

MRS. HOBBY SAID she did not think it would be known "whether or if" the health service had been negligent until a final report is made on vaccine produced by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.

Cutter-made vaccine was withdrawn from public use after a number of children developed polio after receiving it. Scheele has suggested some of the Cutter product may have been un-

Churchill Sees Slow Agreement

Time Blessing In Science Aid

London, June 21 (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill said today "we must not count upon complete and immediate success" in the forthcoming Big Four conference at Geneva.

"A period of relaxation of tension may well be all this is now within our grasp," said the 80-year-old retired prime minister.

"Even so, such a phase would not be sterile. On the contrary, it would give time for science to show the magnitude of her blessings rather than all her terrors."

SIR WINSTON spoke in the ancient Guildhall of the city of London, where a bronze statue of him was unveiled.

Churchill, who has long plumped for a meeting of the Big Four heads of state, said:

"Whatever is the outcome, we must persevere in the maintenance of peace through strength."

Harking back to his own efforts for a top level conference, Churchill said he had long thought a meeting between the leaders of the nations without the formalities of diplomacy would be a good thing.

AND THEN in a tone of pride he added "this is now going to happen and we could have no one more capable of representing us than our present prime minister."

Prime Minister Eden was foreign secretary when Churchill first suggested a "meeting at the summit" in May 1953.

Churchill is now—by his own choice—only a backbencher in the House of Commons. He holds no official job in the government and will be on the sidelines when the Big Four convene.

He heard himself eulogized by the lord mayor as "among all the giants of world history" at

Girl Is Freed For Exams

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—Jail doors have opened for a 17-year-old girl so she can attend to a matter very important in her young life—her high school final examinations.

Barbara Palmattier left her cell yesterday in custody of high school Principal Max A. Reutershan after the district attorney agreed that she be paroled to take her senior class tests.

THE GIRL, member of an old Poughkeepsie family, was arrested last week in Miami, Fla., on a warrant issued after she ran away with 25-year-old Joseph Lee Jr., of Highland, N. Y. She was charged with being a wayward minor and Lee with abduction. Both were placed in the Dutchess county jail.

Barbara was described as a good student, well liked by her teachers and classmates.

Construction Record Looms

Washington, June 21 (AP)—The government predicted today that spending on construction will shoot up about 4¼ billion dollars this year to an unprecedented $41,800,000,000.

The prediction by the Commerce and Labor Departments was based upon economists' expectations that business will continue throughout the last half of this year at its present record rate.

The new forecast was a sharp upward revision since last November, when government economists foresaw a two-billion-dollar rise in building outlays this year.

The present construction record is last year's $37,600,000,000.

Germ War Threatens Is Advice

Houston, Tex., June 21 (AP)—The Army's top chemical officer said today the potential threat from germ and chemical warfare is as great as the danger from atomic weapons.

Maj. Gen. William M. Creasy, chief army chemical officer, said that in an all-out war an enemy would want to save the productive facilities of this nation and therefore might concentrate his assaults on people rather than on machines.

"THE HAZARD is insidious," Creasy declared in a speech prepared for the Texas Chemical Council, because "chemical and biological munitions are generally invisible in action, while the physcal destruction weapons can be seen."

The general also spoke of the possible use by an enemy of chemical or biological agents that would affect people's brains and leave victims unable to do anything constructive toward a defense effort.

He said it is "questionable" that anyone has yet discovered the secret of how to use such mental derangement processes on a large scale, but said that "we must assume that any potential enemy would, in order not to overlook any factor in planning our defenses."

NOTING that atomic weapons, high explosives and missiles causing physical destruction also destroy people, the general said that warfare by poisoning, sickness, radioactivity and mental derangement would destroy or weaken only people while leaving productive facilities intact for a victorious enemy to exploit.

Creasy listed several advances made by the Chemical Corps in developing means to protect people against various types of warfare that might be used.

AMONG THESE he noted a new poison gas identifier which employs chemical compounds that change color when exposed to different kinds of gases.

Another recent development is the aerosoloscope which he said will count airborne particles, including germs, "a thousand times

Two North Koreans Fly In to Surrender

Seoul, June 21 (AP)—Two young North Korean fliers buzzed the Seoul airport today in an old, Russian-built Yak fighter, then landed and gave themselves up to cheering South Korean airmen.

The two were marched to ROK Air Force headquarters for questioning. It was presumed they sought political asylum.

SOUTH KOREAN officers identified the pilot as Capt. Lee Un Yong, 25, who said he returned only six months ago from a Russian jet flying school at Kiev. The other flier was identified as Lt. Lee Eun Song, 24, a navigator trained in Red China. Both are natives of Pyongyang, the Red Korean capital.

They were the first Korean Communist fliers to flee from the Reds since Lt. Noh Kum Suk landed a MIG jet fighter at nearby Kimpo Air Field Sept. 21, 1953. He received a $100,000 reward for delivering the MIG and asylum in the United States.

Guaranteed Wage Seen Spreading

New York, June 21 (AP)—George Meany, American Federation of Labor president, said today the guaranteed annual wage proposal is "going to hit every bargaining table in the next couple of years."

However, he said, "it's up to each industry to handle the principle in a way suitable to it."

Meany said the new Ford-CIO United Auto Workers Union contract represented "for the first time in history, an employer at the bargaining table conceding he bears a share of responsibility for unemployment, over and above state unemployment benefits."

Italy Is Watching For Four Suspects In Bank Robbery

Rome, June 21 (AP)—An order was flashed to police throughout Italy today to keep a close watch for four men and a pretty girl, suspected of complicity in New York's daring $305,000 record bank robbery last April.

There was no arrest order. But the word went out to find the suspects and trail them until further orders.

Interpol, the little-publicized international police organization which acts as a United Nations against crime, gave the word.

THE WOODSIDE, Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank was held up by machine gunners in a bold and carefully planned robbery April 6. The Queens district attorney said in New York the men sought in Italy had been under surveillance because of suspicious actions. He added the men reportedly planned to return to the United States and that if they did, they would be questioned.

Police said the leader of the group is believed to be Giuseppe Di Taco, also known as John Michael Di Tacco, a 37-year-old New Yorker.

THEY GAVE the names of those with him as John Timothy O'Connell, 35; Daniel William

Plans Seem All Set on Conference

Big Three Has Five Proposals

San Francisco, June 21 (AP)—Russia and the western powers were reported to have reached virtual agreement early today on arrangements for the top level talks in Geneva next month.

Informed quarters said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the western diplomats at the end of a four-hour meeting that at first sight he saw no reason to object to a series of proposals they had agreed on in New York last week.

He was understood to have told them he would study the proposals more carefully and give his reply in a day or two. The western foreign ministers apparently were so certain of his acceptance that no further meeting was arranged.

DIPLOMATS at the meeting said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay had proposed that:

1. The purpose of the "summit" meeting should be to ease world tension and not to negotiate the settlement of specific problems.
2. The meetings should last from four to six days.
3. President Eisenhower should be the first presiding officer, to be followed by French Premier Edgar Faure, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.
4. The meeting should be held in the Palais Des Nations, UN headquarters in Geneva, and that the UN should be requested to service the sessions.
5. No council of foreign ministers should be held before the chiefs of government meet.

ANOTHER proposal reported by the New York Herald Tribune in a dispatch from San Francisco was that each country have no more than 10 men at the top level meetings. The newspaper said by this the western powers "hope to avoid what they regard as the circus atmosphere of large delegations backed by even larger numbers of aids, assistants, advisers, secretaries and what not."

The four foreign ministers will have dinner together tonight with Pinay as host, but no serious discussions were planned.

Molotov and Pinay had a long visit together after President Eisenhower's reception for foreign ministers following his speech. Molotov and Pinay talked together in the Veterans Building Green Room for some time after the President and all other guests had departed.

THESE DEVELOPMENTS came as the UN's 10th anniversary meeting got down to its long program of speeches on the world outlook. Macmillan was scheduled to deliver a policy declaration for Britain—the first major foreign policy pro-

Five Teenagers Held by Troopers

Four Staten Island boys and a West Saugerties teenager were taken into custody by state police on Monday at a vacant West Saugerties home where they were sleeping.

Troopers arrested Arthur Doyle, 16, of West Saugerties, and John M. Hansen, 16, whom they said was a runaway from the Mission of the Immaculate Conception on Staten Island. The other three, aged 14, were detained at the Ulster county court house to be returned today to Staten Island.

DOYLE and Hansen were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers on disorderly conduct charges. Doyle was fined $25, and Hansen was ordered held for a hearing today.

Troopers Henry S. Rhodes and William L. Shurter said the boys had entered the Vozdik house at West Saugerties and remained overnight, causing some damage to the place.

A report received this morning from New York City Police Department indicated that four boys who ran away from the Mission of the Immaculate Conception allegedly took $400 from the safe there. Troopers are also investigating this report.

Berry Is Named Auditor at Bank

George L. Berry Jr., who has been associated with the Ulster County Savings Institution for 14 years, has been named auditor for the bank. The appointment became effective this week.

As auditor he will check all transactions, audit accounts and be responsible for changes in the system which will make for better and more efficient service to customers. It is the policy of the New York State Banking Department to recommend to banks of the size of the Ulster County Savings Institution that an auditor be named to have charge of this service.

Mr. Berry came to the banking house in 1941 as a clerk. During World War 2 he served 40 months with the 63rd Infantry Division, returning to the bank as an assistant teller and later becoming teller.

Mayor to Dedicate Zoo On Thursday at 7:30

Kingston's newly refurbished zoo in Forsyth Park will receive seven types of new animals this week and a brief dedication ceremony will be held at the park Thursday at 7:30 p. m., Mayor Frederick H. Stang announced today.

The zoo section was recently prepared for better housing and display of animals and they are due to move in Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. Mayor Stang will preside at the dedication ceremony. Other city officials will attend.

The public is asked to attend the dedication and see the new animals. They will include the buffalo, llama, ostrich, African aoudad sheep, Karakul sheep and deer, and are made available to the city by the Catskill Game Farm.

The zoo has been popular in past years with less on display, but it has never had an impressive showing of animals from distant lands such as the Karakul sheep, aoudad, kangaroo and llama. From the new born of the Karakul sheep comes the Persian lamb coat worn by women. The aoudad is a Barbary sheep, the only wild type found in Africa.

Revenue, Traffic Set 7 Thruway Records

Albany, June 21 (AP)—Toll collections and traffic on the state thruway set seven new records last month, the Thruway Authority reported today.

The authority said motorists paid $963,397 in thruway tolls during May, about 17.5 per cent more than the previous monthly high of $819,732 set in April.

Trucks and passenger cars logged a total of 74,809,282 miles on the cross-state expressway during May, a 19.9 per cent gain over April's 62,349,513 miles, the old record.

The other five records broken also had been established in April. The new marks (with old record in parenthesis):

Passenger-car trips, 720,430 (587,969); commercial trips, 93,505 (82,427); permit-vehicle trips, 301,108 (267,043); passenger-car revenue, $678,102 ($557,078), and commercial-vehicle revenue, $285,294 ($262,654).

The thruway is open to traffic between Buffalo and Hillburn, near the New Jersey state line, a distance of 395 miles.

Premier Is Ready for India Trip

WHILE DECLINING to give specific details of his conversations, Nehru said that he and the Soviet government probably would issue a joint statement before his scheduled departure Thursday morning.

Nehru was asked many questions about reducing international tension and about the forthcoming Big Four Summit parley.

Regarding the Geneva talks, he declared, "we all hope this will help, not in solving problems, but in finding a way toward their solution."

Asked what specific questions he thought ought to be discussed by Bulganin, President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Edgar Faure, Nehru said:

The Communist party newspaper Pravda has kept up a steady stream of anti-American articles during Nehru's tour of the Soviet Union. When a Pravda correspondent identified himself today and asked Nehru what measures should be taken to reduce international tension the Indian prime minister replied:

Guaranteed Wage Seen Spreading

New York, June 21 (AP)—George Meany, American Federation of Labor president, said today the guaranteed annual wage proposal is "going to hit every bargaining table in the next couple of years."

However, he said, "it's up to each industry to handle the principle in a way suitable to it."

Meany said the new Ford-CIO United Auto Workers Union contract represented "for the first time in history," an employer at the bargaining table conceding he bears a share of responsibility for unemployment, over and above state unemployment benefits."

Italy Is Watching For Four Suspects In Bank Robbery

Rome, June 21 (AP)—An order was flashed to police throughout Italy today to keep a close watch for four men and a pretty girl, suspected of complicity in New York's daring $305,000 record bank robbery last April.

There was no arrest order. But the word went out to find the suspects and trail them until further orders.

Interpol, the little-publicized international police organization which acts as a United Nations against crime, gave the word.

THE WOODSIDE, Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank was held up by machine gunners in a bold and carefully planned robbery April 6. The Queens district attorney said in New York the men sought in Italy had been under surveillance because of suspicious actions. He added the men reportedly planned to return to the United States and that if they did, they would be questioned.

Police said the leader of the group is believed to be Giuseppe Di Taco, also known as John Michael Di Tacco, a 37-year-old New Yorker.

THEY GAVE the names of those with him as John Timothy O'Connell, 35; Daniel William

Plans Seem All Set on Conference

Big Three Has Five Proposals

San Francisco, June 21 (AP)—Russia and the western powers were reported to have reached virtual agreement early today on arrangements for the top level talks in Geneva next month.

Informed quarters said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the western diplomats at the end of a four-hour meeting that at first sight he saw no reason to object to a series of proposals they had agreed on in New York last week.

He was understood to have told them he would study the proposals more carefully and give his reply in a day or two. The western foreign ministers apparently were so certain of his acceptance that no further meeting was arranged.

DIPLOMATS at the meeting said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay had proposed that:

1. The purpose of the "summit" meeting should be to ease world tension and not to negotiate the settlement of specific problems.
2. The meetings should last from four to six days.
3. President Eisenhower should be the first presiding officer, to be followed by French Premier Edgar Faure, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.
4. The meeting should be held in the Palais Des Nations, UN headquarters in Geneva, and that the UN should be requested to service the sessions.
5. No council of foreign ministers should be held before the chiefs of government meet.

ANOTHER proposal reported by the New York Herald Tribune in a dispatch from San Francisco was that each country have no more than 10 men at the top level meetings. The newspaper said by this the western powers "hope to avoid what they regard as the circus atmosphere of large delegations backed by even larger numbers of aids, assistants, advisers, secretaries and what not."

The four foreign ministers will have dinner together tonight with Pinay as host, but no serious discussions were planned.

Molotov and Pinay had a long visit together after President Eisenhower's reception for foreign ministers following his speech. Molotov and Pinay talked together in the Veterans Building Green Room for some time after the President and all other guests had departed.

THESE DEVELOPMENTS came as the UN's 10th anniversary meeting got down to its long program of speeches on the world outlook. Macmillan was scheduled to deliver a policy declaration for Britain—the first major foreign policy pro-

Five Teenagers Held by Troopers

Four Staten Island boys and a West Saugerties teenager were taken into custody by state police on Monday at a vacant West Saugerties home where they were sleeping.

Troopers arrested Arthur Doyle, 16, of West Saugerties, and John M. Hansen, 16, whom they said was a runaway from the Mission of the Immaculate Conception on Staten Island. The other three, aged 14, were detained at the Ulster county court house to be returned today to Staten Island.

DOYLE and Hansen were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers on disorderly conduct charges. Doyle was fined $25, and Hansen was ordered held for a hearing today.

Troopers Henry S. Rhodes and William L. Shurter said the boys had entered the Vozdik house at West Saugerties and remained overnight, causing some damage to the place.

A report received this morning from New York City Police Department indicated that four boys who ran away from the Mission of the Immaculate Conception allegedly took $400 from the safe there. Troopers are also investigating this report.

Berry Is Named Auditor at Bank

George L. Berry Jr., who has been associated with the Ulster County Savings Institution for 14 years, has been named auditor for the bank. The appointment became effective this week.

As auditor he will check all transactions, audit accounts and be responsible for changes in the system which will make for better and more efficient service to customers. It is the policy of the New York State Banking Department to recommend to banks of the size of the Ulster County Savings Institution that an auditor be named to have charge of this service.

Mr. Berry came to the banking house in 1941 as a clerk. During World War 2 he served 40 months with the 63rd Infantry Division, returning to the bank as an assistant teller and later becoming teller.

Mayor to Dedicate Zoo On Thursday at 7:30

Kingston's newly refurbished zoo in Forsyth Park will receive seven types of new animals this week and a brief dedication ceremony will be held at the park Thursday at 7:30 p. m., Mayor Frederick H. Stang announced today.

The zoo section was recently prepared for better housing and display of animals and they are due to move in Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. Mayor Stang will preside at the dedication ceremony. Other city officials will attend.

The public is asked to attend the dedication and see the new animals. They will include the buffalo, llama, ostrich, African aoudad sheep, Karakul sheep and deer, and are made available to the city by the Catskill Game Farm.

The zoo has been popular in past years with less on display, but it has never had an impressive showing of animals from distant lands such as the Karakul sheep, aoudad, kangaroo and llama. From the new born of the Karakul sheep comes the Persian lamb coat worn by women. The aoudad is a Barbary sheep, the only wild type found in Africa.

HELD IN SHOOTINGS—William Jackson, 59, of Denver, Colo., the irate gunman who fired on ten automobiles, wounding one person and injuring three others, because they failed to dim their headlights, is shown with Samuel P. Johnson, 35, of Houston, Tex., a passenger in his car, after their arrest in Pittsburgh. (NEA Telephoto).

Revenue, Traffic Set 7 Thruway Records

Albany, June 21 (AP)—Toll collections and traffic on the state thruway set seven new records last month, the Thruway Authority reported today.

The authority said motorists paid $963,397 in thruway tolls during May, about 17.5 per cent more than the previous monthly high of $819,732 set in April.

Trucks and passenger cars logged a total of 74,809,282 miles on the cross-state expressway during May, a 19.9 per cent gain over April's 62,349,513 miles, the old record.

The other five records broken also had been established in April. The new marks (with old record in parenthesis):

Passenger-car trips, 720,430 (587,969); commercial trips, 93,505 (82,427); permit-vehicle trips, 301,108 (267,043); passenger-car revenue, $678,102 ($557,078), and commercial-vehicle revenue, $285,294 ($262,654).

The thruway is open to traffic between Buffalo and Hillburn, near the New Jersey state line, a distance of 395 miles.

Check Point Blaze

Firemen were called at 4.46 p. m., yesterday to the Kingston Point Park area where timbers in a shack were reported smouldering. Cornell station responded and the blaze was checked with a booster pump.

Central Meeting

A meeting of the Central Businessmen's Association is scheduled at the YMCA, Wednesday at 7:45 p. m., according to a notice mailed by George Dittmar, secretary, who urges a full attendance of members.

PUTTING A STOP TO THINGS—Three remote-controlled traps are braking emergency jet landings at Republic Aviation Corp. runways at Farmingdale, N.Y. A push of a button from the control tower lifts a nylon mesh strip from the runway which catches the speeding plane's nosewheel and causes a steel cable to catch the plane's main landing wheels. Cable is attached to 36 tons of anchor chain whose sheer drag stops a plane speeding 150 m.p.h. in 600 feet.

Argentina . . .

where the insurgent pilots fled for refuge. Fourteen junior officers returned with the planes, declaring that they had not taken any voluntary part in the rebellion.

Lucero and the military reaped a growing publicity harvest in the nation's press as Peron's longtime prominence on front pages slipped. None of Buenos Aires' afternoon newspapers published a picture of the president yesterday, previously a rare occurrence in the Argentine capital.

PERON ALSO was absent from yesterday's observance of Argentine Flag Day in Buenos Aires—an occasion which he almost never missed in the past. Army officers held the center of the stage at the ceremonies honoring Gen. Manuel Belgrano, who created the nation's blue and white banner.

Peron's activities were not chronicled in detail, but the state radio said he resumed work yesterday after spending Sunday at his residence. The broadcast said he performed his usual official tasks with the aid of his principal assistants.

THE NEW ORDER also appeared bent on playing down one of Peron's prize assets—the memory of his late wife, Eva. The government radio announcer went on the air with the official news broadcast at 8:30 p. m. last night. Since Mrs. Peron died at 8:25 p. m. on July 26, 1952, the broadcast has been heard nightly five minutes before the half hour, as a memorial.

There also were no more of the bitter attacks on the Roman Catholic Church that the progovernment press has featured since the fued between Peron and the church broke into the open seven months ago. Peron then accused some of the clergy of seeking to undermine his regime, a charge denied by the church.

Prediction Blamed

New Delhi, India, June 21 (AP)—Police today blamed an astrologer's prediction for the death of a family of five. They said a soothsayer told Maden Mohan Lal, 45-year-old government cashier, that he would die by his own hand before June 30, after bringing great distress to his family. Lal worried about the prediction so much that he stabbed his wife and three children to death, then threw himself under a speeding train.

Killed in Tractor Plunge

Hornell, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—A 54-year-old woman, Mrs. Mary Burleson, was killed yesterday when the tractor she was driving at her farm home plunged down a 20-foot embankment and overturned. A certificate of accidental death was issued by Dr. Richard E. Travis, Steuben county coroner.

Most of Pupils Get Salk Shots

Between 85 and 90 per cent of the children eligible for the Salk polio shots attended the clinic at the George Washington School this morning and received the vaccine, it was reported at the County Health office at noon.

A complete check of the list had not been made at that time with the list from the George Washington School still to be checked. Since this was one of the largest list an estimate of the total number of children receiving the vaccine could not be made. The last school to arrive and receive the Salk solution was the pupils from No. 2 School who arrived at 10:40 a. m. and at 10:55 the last child had been treated.

A NUMBER of eligible children were ill, others were out of town but it was reported at the County Health Department that the program had been "highly successful" and it was estimated close to 90 per cent of those eligible for the innoculation had received the shots.

There was an ample supply of vaccine on hand to treat all eligible children who appeared by 11 o'clock when the program was completed.

No False Alarms To Mar Event

Saturday's history-making throngs of volunteer firemen and those here as delegates for the other two days of last week's convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, passed in and out of town without the single sounding of a false alarm, it was noted today.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy believes this some kind of a record. Many firemen's conventions and parades or other similar events of the past have been marked with false alarms almost in series.

Italy Is Watching

MacGuire, 28; Peter Jerome Kirdam, 34, of Manchester, England, and Jeanette Forest, 27, of Montreal, Canada.

Police speculated that if they are trying to get away through Italy, they probably hope to slip through Africa or the Middle East in a small ship.

No roadblocks or other extraordinary measures have been ordered. They are not necessary in Italy. No one—not even an Italian—can get public lodging without filling out a police form. Each of these is checked within hours. Foreigners must show passports. Wanted persons usually are turned up within 24 to 48 hours.

U. S. EMBASSY sources declined to confirm or deny reports that Italian police had been asked to establish a nationwide dragnet.

Police also said they have the license number of the chauffeur-driven car in which the four men crossed the French border near Ventimiglia on June 16. They spent that night at the luxurious Italian Riviera resort city of San Remo.

French police, quickly cooperating, reported that the license number registered by frontier authorities was that of a car belonging to Albert Pager, a Frenchman lives at Combevoie, Seine District.

TRAFFIC POLICE throughout Italy—and in a land of few stop lights and much unemployment they are as numerous as locusts—have been alerted to spot license plate 35GA65.

A north Italian police officer reported that the tipoff came when Di Tacco sent a cable to New York June 17 asking a man under surveillance there to help him reach an Italian contact.

Last night Naples police were told to be on the lookout. Today the order was broadened.

But police emphasized there were no charges against the group and that they had no arrest order. They simply want to locate them and keep them under surveillance as long as they stay in Italy.

The hunt centered today in Naples. It has been a center for deported American hoodlums with Italian contacts.

Asked about Soviet aid programs for India, the prime minister said any such program would be on a strictly business basis, that India would get no financial aid and would pay for such equipment and technical advice as she got from the Soviet Union.

Phillips Family Has 13th Reunion

The 13th annual meeting of the Phillips family was held at the Glenford Church Hall Sunday with about 100 descendants attending.

Following a picnic lunch, movies were taken. A committee was appointed to decide on a date and location for the next meeting, with special attention to entertainment for the younger generation.

One of the principal events of the day was the presentation of the coat-of-arms of the Phillips name to Rose E. Matthews by her son Clyde Matthews of Ellenville.

The family, of distinguished Dutch origin, is descended from the family of Adolph Phillipse who settled in New York (New Holland) about 1664. This coat-of-arms will be exhibited at subsequent reunions.

A vote was taken and the secretary was instructed to cast one unanimous vote for the re-election of present officers for another three years.

Members of the family were present from New Haven, Clinton, New Britain, Hartford and Berlin, Conn., Poughkeepsie, Schenectady, Ellenville, Port Ewen, West Hurley, Kingston and New York.

JESUS
THE SAVIOUR AND HEALER

When a sick person is healed by the Christ, the crisis is past.

Jesus, who raised the dead, can raise the sick and save the soul.

Jesus came to straighten crooked paths for sinners and straighten crooked bodies for the sick.

Jesus healed people, then He had them carry their beds to show what a good job of healing He did.

Healing from Jesus is included in the Christian religion.

It is appointed unto man once to die, but Jesus can postpone the appointment by healing the sick.

Salvation is to cleanse the soul from sin; healing is to cleanse the body from disease.

Sickness and disease are complicated; God's healing is simple and uncomplicated.

Healing from Jesus, is so simple a fool could not err therein.

Everyone should be in favor of healing from Jesus, because they never know when they might have to call on him themselves for healing.

I know Jesus saves; I see the result of his saving power in people's lives. I know Jesus heals; I see the result of His healing power in people's bodies.

Jesus, who can lift an unsaved person out of the gutter, can lift a sick person out of a sick bed.

They who have found Jesus as their Saviour have found life. They who have found Jesus as their healer have found good health.

This is a sick and lost world, but God sent His Son Jesus to heal the sick and save the lost.

Jesus, who can give eternal life through salvation, can give us longer natural life through healing.

Jesus is the way of salvation for the lost, and the way of recovery for the sick and afflicted.

The Christ who can save the lost who are without hope, can heal the sick who are without hope.

Jesus came to save the sinners from a life of sin and to save the sick from a life of ill health.

Healing from God is important because it's the only way that some people have left to get well.

It takes a lot of fear out of life to know that Jesus heals.

Healing is one of the great proofs that Christianity works.

People should not seek healing from God as a last resort, they should seek it as a first resort.

Healing is in reach of all, but all will not reach.

Jesus can heal the sick and give them a longer time to live.

It's not as late as you think after Jesus heals you.

Jesus can keep those who are well from getting sick.

Check Point Blaze

Firemen were called at 4.46 p. m., yesterday to the Kingston Point Park area where timbers in a shack were reported smouldering. Cornell station responded and the blaze was checked with a booster pump.

Central Meeting

A meeting of the Central Businessmen's Association is scheduled at the YMCA, Wednesday at 7:45 p. m., according to a notice mailed by George Dittmar, secretary, who urges a full attendance of members.

PUTTING A STOP TO THINGS—Three remote-controlled traps are braking emergency jet landings at Republic Aviation Corp. runways at Farmingdale, N.Y. A push of a button from the control tower lifts a nylon mesh strip from the runway which catches the speeding plane's nosewheel and causes a steel cable to catch the plane's main landing wheels. Cable is attached to 36 tons of anchor chain whose sheer drag stops a plane speeding 150 m.p.h. in 600 feet.

where the insurgent pilots fled for refuge. Fourteen junior officers returned with the planes, declaring that they had not taken any voluntary part in the rebellion.

Lucero and the military reaped a growing publicity harvest in the nation's press as Peron's longtime prominence on front pages slipped. None of Buenos Aires' afternoon newspapers published a picture of the president yesterday, previously a rare occurrence in the Argentine capital.

PERON ALSO was absent from yesterday's observance of Argentine Flag Day in Buenos Aires—an occasion which he almost never missed in the past. Army officers held the center of the stage at the ceremonies honoring Gen. Manuel Belgrano, who created the nation's blue and white banner.

Peron's activities were not chronicled in detail, but the state radio said he resumed work yesterday after spending Sunday at his residence. The broadcast said he performed his usual official tasks with the aid of his principal assistants.

THE NEW ORDER also appeared bent on playing down one of Peron's prize assets—the memory of his late wife, Eva. The government radio announcer went on the air with the official news broadcast at 8:30 p. m. last night. Since Mrs. Peron died at 8:25 p. m. on July 26, 1952, the broadcast has been heard nightly five minutes before the half hour, as a memorial.

There also were no more of the bitter attacks on the Roman Catholic Church that the progovernment press has featured since the fued between Peron and the church broke into the open seven months ago. Peron then accused some of the clergy of seeking to undermine his regime, a charge denied by the church.

Prediction Blamed

New Delhi, India, June 21 (AP)—Police today blamed an astrologer's prediction for the death of a family of five. They said a soothsayer told Maden Mohan Lal, 45-year-old government cashier, that he would die by his own hand before June 30, after bringing great distress to his family. Lal worried about the prediction so much that he stabbed his wife and three children to death, then threw himself under a speeding train.

Killed in Tractor Plunge

Hornell, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—A 54-year-old woman, Mrs. Mary Burleson, was killed yesterday when the tractor she was driving at her farm home plunged down a 20-foot embankment and overturned. A certificate of accidental death was issued by Dr. Richard E. Travis, Steuben county coroner.

Most of Pupils Get Salk Shots

Between 85 and 90 per cent of the children eligible for the Salk polio shots attended the clinic at the George Washington School this morning and received the vaccine, it was reported at the County Health office at noon.

A complete check of the list had not been made at that time with the list from the George Washington School still to be checked. Since this was one of the largest list an estimate of the total number of children receiving the vaccine could not be made. The last school to arrive and receive the Salk solution was the pupils from No. 2 School who arrived at 10:40 a. m. and at 10:55 the last child had been treated.

A NUMBER of eligible children were ill, others were out of town but it was reported at the County Health Department that the program had been "highly successful" and it was estimated close to 90 per cent of those eligible for the innoculation had received the shots.

There was an ample supply of vaccine on hand to treat all eligible children who appeared by 11 o'clock when the program was completed.

No False Alarms To Mar Event

Saturday's history-making throngs of volunteer firemen and those here as delegates for the other two days of last week's convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, passed in and out of town without the single sounding of a false alarm, it was noted today.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy believes this some kind of a record. Many firemen's conventions and parades or other similar events of the past have been marked with false alarms almost in series.

Resigns Tax Post

MacGuire, 28; Peter Jerome Kirdam, 34, of Manchester, England, and Jeanette Forest, 27, of Montreal, Canada.

Police speculated that if they are trying to get away through Italy, they probably hope to slip through Africa or the Middle East in a small ship.

No roadblocks or other extraordinary measures have been ordered. They are not necessary in Italy. No one—not even an Italian—can get public lodging without filling out a police form. Each of these is checked within hours. Foreigners must show passports. Wanted persons usually are turned up within 24 to 48 hours.

U. S. EMBASSY sources declined to confirm or deny reports that Italian police had been asked to establish a nationwide dragnet.

Police also said they have the license number of the chauffeur-driven car in which the four men crossed the French border near Ventimiglia on June 16. They spent that night at the luxurious Italian Riviera resort city of San Remo.

French police, quickly cooperating, reported that the license number registered by frontier authorities was that of a car belonging to Albert Pager, a Frenchman, lives at Combevoie, Seine District.

TRAFFIC POLICE throughout Italy—and in a land of few stop lights and much unemployment they are as numerous as locusts—have been alerted to spot license plate 35GA65.

A north Italian police officer reported that the tipoff came when Di Tacco sent a cable to New York June 17 asking a man under surveillance there to help him reach an Italian contact.

Last night Naples police were told to be on the lookout. Today the order was broadened.

But police emphasized there were no charges against the group and that they had no arrest order. They simply want to locate them and keep them under surveillance as long as they stay in Italy.

The hunt centered today in Naples. It has been a center for deported American hoodlums with Italian contacts.

Phillips Family Has 13th Reunion

The 13th annual meeting of the Phillips family was held at the Glenford Church Hall Sunday with about 100 descendants attending.

Following a picnic lunch, movies were taken. A committee was appointed to decide on a date and location for the next meeting, with special attention to entertainment for the younger generation.

One of the principal events of the day was the presentation of the coat-of-arms of the Phillips name to Rose E. Matthews by her son Clyde Matthews of Ellenville.

The family, of distinguished Dutch origin, is descended from the family of Adolph Phillipse who settled in New York (New Holland) about 1664. This coat-of-arms will be exhibited at subsequent reunions.

A vote was taken and the secretary was instructed to cast one unanimous vote for the re-election of present officers for another three years.

Members of the family were present from New Haven, Clinton, New Britain, Hartford and Berlin, Conn., Poughkeepsie, Schenectady, Ellenville, Port Ewen, West Hurley, Kingston and New York.

JESUS

THE SAVIOUR AND HEALER

When a sick person is healed by the Christ, the crisis is past.

Jesus, who raised the dead, can raise the sick and save the soul.

Jesus came to straighten crooked paths for sinners and straighten crooked bodies for the sick.

Jesus healed people, then He had them carry their beds to show what a good job of healing He did.

Healing from Jesus is included in the Christian religion.

It is appointed unto man once to die, but Jesus can postpone the appointment by healing the sick.

Salvation is to cleanse the soul from sin; healing is to cleanse the body from disease.

Sickness and disease are complicated; God's healing is simple and uncomplicated.

Healing from Jesus, is so simple a fool could not err therein.

Everyone should be in favor of healing from Jesus, because they never know when they might have to call on him themselves for healing.

I know Jesus saves; I see the result of his saving power in people's lives. I know Jesus heals; I see the result of His healing power in people's bodies.

Jesus, who can lift an unsaved person out of the gutter, can lift a sick person out of a sick bed.

They who have found Jesus as their Saviour have found life. They who have found Jesus as their healer have found good health.

This is a sick and lost world, but God sent His Son Jesus to heal the sick and save the lost.

Jesus, who can give eternal life through salvation, can give us longer natural life through healing.

Jesus is the way of salvation for the lost, and the way of recovery for the sick and afflicted.

The Christ who can save the lost who are without hope, can heal the sick who are without hope.

Jesus came to save the sinners from a life of sin and to save the sick from a life of ill health.

Healing from God is important because it's the only way that some people have left to get well.

It takes a lot of fear out of life to know that Jesus heals.

Healing is one of the great proofs that Christianity works.

People should not seek healing from God as a last resort, they should seek it as a first resort.

Healing is in reach of all, but all will not reach.

Jesus can heal the sick and give them a longer time to live.

It's not as late as you think after Jesus heals you.

Jesus can keep those who are well from getting sick.

New York, June 21 (AP)—Young William Anthony Burton's fortune, which he inherits through a family tragedy, has been figured at nearly eight million dollars.

William, now 12, used to be known as Wayne William Lonergan. His name was changed after his father, Wayne Lonergan, killed the boy's mother in her fashionable Beekman Place apartment in 1943.

The father was convicted of second degree murder of his estranged wife, Patricia. He is serving 35 years to life.

Through the death of his mother, the boy became the only living heir of her grandfather, wealthy brewer Max E. Bernheimer, who died in 1913 and whose widow died last year.

An accounting of the estate filed yesterday in Surrogate's Court showed the boy will inherit $7,809,918 as soon as the accounts are approved. He has already received $3,059,198 of this sum, the record showed.

Dallas, Tex., June 21 (AP)—A 42-year-old man became Dallas' first polio death victim of the year yesterday as a second child treated with the Salk polio vaccine was stricken.

George Harold Lemmons, a postal clerk, died about four hours after hospitalization with the disease. He became ill yesterday after laying brick for a patio at his home.

Physicians said the 7-year-old child, a girl, was in good condition with "only a light case" of the often crippling disease. The first "Salk case" of the disease was an 8-year-old boy. Doctors at Parkland Hospital agreed neither case could be attributed to the vaccine shots.

Dallas has had 30 polio cases reported this year.

Strike Hampers Rochester Hopes For ABC Tourney

JUNE DAIRY MONTH

June is Dairy Month and many activities have been planned in Ulster County. We have a dairy income of approximately $4,000,000 in the county, according to associate county agricultural agent Robert D. Guzewich.

Dairying is an important part of the economy of our county and area and everyone should participate actively in the observance of Dairy Month.

Many activities have been planned here, including special educational exhibits of the Mid-Hudson Area Dairy Council. Many Ulster milk producers and milk distributors are cooperating with the local dairy council.

June Dairy Month also is being observed nationally by many organizations.

Emphasis on the importance of a successful dairy industry will not be limited to the month of June. A year-round program of advertising and public relations is being conducted. The program is made possible, in part, by the support of the New York State farmers' own milk promotion organization, Milk for Health, Inc.

UN SPURS TOURING

The United Nations has become interested in the multi-million dollar tourist business and is encouraging member nations to capitalize both on the economic and educational advantages offered by travelers.

One phase of the program is a hotel training school, started at the request of Haiti, lately become an attractive tourist point. An academic course is offered besides subjects needed for efficient operation of tourist hotels.

The UN is also engaged in attempts to reduce the cost of international travel and to encourage touring. Techniques used by the European Travel Commission, which helped to increase travel of American citizens in Europe from 183,000 in 1948 to about 456,000 in 1954, are being adopted by a new Pacific Area Travel Association.

International travel is an important factor in foreign trade. Earnings from tourists total more than the value of world trade in wheat and American tourists spend the equivalent of about 10 per cent of the total United States exports. It is obvious that tourism is a proper concern of the United Nations. Obvious as well is the opportunity such an active business presents for the development of friendly relations among people.

A TOWN COMES BACK

The people of Udall, Kansas, are rebuilding their town.

In the latter part of May a tornado swept across Kansas and when it had departed Udall was all but erased from the map. No buildings remained that were undamaged and all but a few were flattened. Of the 600 inhabitants of the town 77 were killed and 200 others given hospital treatment.

But the people of Udall are getting back on their feet. They are picking up the debris that lies where their houses and churches and schools once stood and they are wasting no time feeling sorry for themselves.

The federal government has appropriated money and various relief organizations have moved in to help. The people are grateful for the assistance but they know that the big part of the job is theirs and they are not shirking it. Trade unions have volunteered their work. Industries have contributed materials. Neighbors are helping neighbors.

The Mayor of Udall spoke for his townsmen when he said: "Give us a year, or maybe eighteen months, and you won't know this town."

Udall took a beating but it isn't beaten. Its story should be told everywhere, for it speaks of the power and persistence of human courage.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IN THE AGONY COLUMNS

The London "Times," as everybody knows, publishes really top news on its front page—it is a melange of want ads and agony ads, all mixed up, but always read. For years, I have looked for the advertisements of Kirkland Bridge Church Restorations Ltd. I must confess that often I have thought up a column from its inspiration. The writing is masterly.

On the verge of the recent election. Kirkland Bridge produced an advertisement which contains this unbelievable paragraph:

"We must learn to work again—if I dare whisper that robust word 'work' in these days of Full Employment—yes, you heard George, I said work—plain, hard, eight-hours-a-day honest work; we have forgotten how to sweat; why, last week when 194 miners were threatened with dismissal, they increased their output from 10 to 80 tons of coal per day; and in one week produced as much coal as they had done in the previous two months. Try and find me a shorthand-typist whose best friends are not her eraser, powder-compact, and wrist-watch—'What about holidays?—Time off for the hairdresser?—Do you work Saturday?'—juniors, clerks, drivers, domestic helps, waiters, chefs, painters, skilled and unskilled workers—it is the same tale everywhere. The blunt fact is that with full employment and the million-to-one chance of winning the Treble Chance too many of us are clock-watchers, tea-makers, and waiters-for-pay-day: working at the rate of 30 minutes an hour we are being paid at the rate of 60 minutes an hour—and then grumble at the cost of living."

The world is much the same, operating on the law of supply and demand. In England, they have a tea break and we have a coffee break when all the boys and girls quit for conversation and refreshments. Maybe it breaks the monotony but it is not pushing the job.

The 40-hour week will soon be reduced to 30 and perhaps that is why there are so many accidents on the road. What do people do with all the hours they have to do nothing? Perhaps they go in for "Do It Yourself" or they play Hi-Fi recordings or they just sit around and yap until their talk gets them into a fight and they end up in a separation.

Of course, the vogue of the soft-shelled book, which is bought in the drug-store and on the news stands, developed as the hours of leisure increased, but so did juvenile delinquency take on its present sinister forms. If parents are not bogged down with long hours of labor, why cannot they take better care of their children? Have they lost the art or do they no longer know what to say? It is not enough to talk of the birds and the bees; it might be of some avail to speak of God's moral law if one can think of that.

Over in England, they wondered about leisure and what would become of the morale of a people with so few hours of work for their daily bread. I can still recall when there was leisure because there were no jobs and what did we do with leisure then? Nobody really worried about the evils of leisure when a worker had all day off because he had no work to do. Why are we so frightened by it now?

And is it really necessary to sweat? Let the machine sweat. Robert A. Taft used to say that it was the particular mark of capitalistic progress if men produced more by less work at higher pay. For that, he was called a reactionary although it seemed to me that the history of liberalism is the advance of all mankind from the clod who labored from sunrise to sunset for a bare living to the leisure classes which are served by mechanical slaves while all men and women become philosophers and poets.

But they do not want to be philosophers and poets. They want to be what they would have been if they worked 12 hours a day. They want to watch somebody else be a philosopher and poet and songwriter and singer and dancer and all the things that come on television. Who can really say what is the correct use of the leisure for another man?

WHY BACK BRACES ARE WORN

It is amazing the number of persons we meet these days who are wearing a brace or corset for support or protection of the back. The two main reasons for the wearing of the back brace is for the relief of pain and for the protection of the back while it is healing from some injury or operation.

We hear a great deal about "discs" in the spine and it is felt that these are by far the most common cause of back diability, particularly in the low back. The majority of these cases can be helped by the wearing of a brace although when there are very acute episodes of pain and protrusion of the disc, more intense treatment in the form of bed rest, traction or surgery may be required.

The second group requiring back braces are, as mentioned, those who have had some injury or operation to the spine. Common are the "whiplash" injuries which, as we mentioned a few days ago, frequently occur in automobile accidents. This condition is helped by early treatment with backbracing which may need to be kept on for as long as three months.

Operations on the spine may be for fractures or bone grafts. In both of these cases, the patient will have a period of time in bed during which most of the healing will occur. When the patient first gets up, and for some time thereafter, the new bone, which has been formed, is weak and may be damaged by too much movement. During this stage, the protection of a brace is required and should be continued for several months from the date of operation.

How long should the brace be worn? When it is worn for the relief of pain from degenerative disc disease, we should remember that sometimes the pain goes away and the brace may be left off; then again, it may return and necessitate the rewearing of the support. As a general rule, a three-month trial period is enough as the acute phase is often over by that time. If the symptoms persist despite wearing a brace for this length of time, then other more intensive treatment may have to be considered.

It has alreday been mentioned that when the brace is being worn to protect injuries, three months should be enough for soft tissue damage, such as the "whiplash" and "sprung back," and at least six months if there has been damage to the bone from fracture or bone graft.

There also are less common conditons, such as defects of the spine present from time of birth and osteoporosis (when the bone becomes porous), occurring in old age or after the menopause in which the spine needs the support and protection of a brace.

U.N.'s Tenth Anniversary---Still Coexisting

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Emergency Press Headquarters, Operation (not very) Alert (NEA) — Everybody here wanted to take the simulated H-bomb attack on 54 American cities seriously, but somehow it just didn't come off.

In a huge, factory-type structure that had served as a temporary government office building in World War 2, 150 newsmen assembled to report on how the government would function in case Washington was knocked out and all the big shots evacuated.

Somebody had thoughtfully provided desks and typewriters in a long room whose walls were tinted a restful green.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary at the White House, was in charge with other information specialists from the Departments of State, Defense, Agriculture, Post Office and so on. The only trouble was there wasn't any news, much, to give out.

Nevertheless Snyder went into his act and called his first press conference, gravely, right after the alert was sounded.

HE ANNOUNCED THAT the President had left Washington. Secretary of Defense Wilson had taken off in a helicopter. Mrs. Hobby had arrived safely at a relocation center—wherever that was—in a station wagon.

But then the questions started raining down on Snyder's head. Could it be assumed that the U. S. Strategic Air Command had simulated a retaliatory attack? It would be comforting to know.

Snyder allowed as how nothing could be assumed till he announced it.

In that case, asked a reporter, could Mr. Snyder simulate a question to the Department of Defense and ask them if they were going to simulate a retaliatory attack on the enemy? And who was the simulated enemy?

Snyder said he would try. Four hours later he got back the answer from some unidentified source that "retaliation was not a part of this exercise." Also, that even if there was retaliation, the reporters wouldn't be told about it.

WHO THE ENEMY WAS that had attacked never was identified.

At 1:30 Snyder announced that the President would broadcast for one minute at 3:00. The reporters went to lunch in the cafeteria provided in the basement.

When they came back it was discovered there was no radio or TV receiver in the place. The news broadcasters had brought down only transmitting equipment. So it was a couple of hours before the press headquarters found out what the President said.

Other bugs developed in rapid succession.

It was several hours after New York was hit before the press headquarters heard about it. It developed that this wasn't the information headquarters after all. That was some place else and it assembled then relayed the news to the press headquarters at the end of the line.

"I'm wondering what I'm doing here," commented one veteran White House reporter. "We're the last to learn anything."

The news pool of 12 reporters accompanying the President was, in the meantime, doing much better. It relayed to press headquarters such illuminating bulletins as this one announced by Mr. Snyder:

"THE PRESIDENT has left the place where he has been for his own headquarters, with his staff. His relocation site has been moved."

Mimeographed handouts began appearing. There were 16 in the first eight hours. One of them, from Department of Defense, said that army research engineers had developed a new aerial tramway for landing supplies from ship to shore. Department of Agriculture had developed a new gas mask filter.

This was a help. It showed that even if the government was bombed out, it could still issue handouts.

The climax came at 7 p. m., when Gov. Val Peterson, the Civil Defense administrator, flew in for a press conference in which he announced that the theoretical casualties would be in the millions and that the exercise was a success, even though the results were negative.

A bulletin handout from Mrs. Hobby announced that "it had been a very stimulating exercise."

Moral Code of West Is Stressed by President

By DAVID LAWRENCE

San Francisco, June 21 — There is here an atmosphere of hope for the peace of the world. An opportunity to express that hope is the main reason why they are celebrating the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

To say over and over again that the world wants peace is not a futile gesture, because moral force—which is the sum total of the currents of public opinion everywhere—does manage to penetrate the most difficult barriers.

When, therefore, the President of the United States stands before the representatives of 60 nations and articulates the moral code which the American people stand for, it is a distinct gain. Bearing in mind that Foreign Minister Molotov of the Soviet Union and the other envoys from the satellite states are here, it is thrilling to hear the President saying to them face to face the truths that the Western World considers paramount as a basis for peace.

"Justice, decency and liberty," says Mr. Eisenhower, are imbedded in the United Nations Charter—if all nations would only observe them.

"The right to select in full freedom" the individuals who conduct government, no matter what its form, is the President's second concept.

"Free access to historical and current facts and information" as indispensable to the maintenance and operation of "a system of self-government" is the third point emphasized.

"No nation has a right to employ force aggressively against any other," proclaims the President as he carries further the theme that it is "the first responsibility of every nation to provide for its own defense" and that it has "the clear right to associate itself with other like-minded peoples for the promotion of their common security."

The President was naturally compelled to express his thoughts in implicit phrases. For at this gathering it would have been ill-advised and in bad taste to have done otherwise. But, reading the speech carefully, it will be observed that Mr. Eisenhower didn't really pull any punches. He reiterated the fundamentals of international morality for which the Western nations fought in the last war and which they still hold to be prerequisite to a firmly established peace.

Mr. Eisenhower has left it to the U. S. Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, to make an explicit pronouncement on American foreign policy later in the week. But already those who may have doubts as to the wisdom of this celebration can be assured that the reaffirmation of basic ideals has in itself given a tone to the United Nations conference which must inevitably overflow into the other conference being held here concurrently at which arrangements are to be made with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov for the meeting "at the summit" in Geneva next month. The only clew to Mr. Eisenhower's thoughts on this was a noncommittal paragraph in his speech, which read as follows:

"Within a month there will be a four power conference of heads of government. Whether or not we shall then reach the initial decisions that will start dismantling the terrible apparatus of fear and mistrust and weapons erected since the end of World War 2, I do not know."

The whole world echoes the anxiety in the phrase, "I do not know." But one thing is clear—the burden of proof is on the Communists who have made necessary the building up of a terrible apparatus of military power. If, as it sometimes hinted, there is now a change in the Soviet attitude, the United States government indicates its readiness to listen with an open mind to any of their proposals. But the key to it all is contained in another paragraph of President Eisenhower's address, in which he said:

"We and a majority of all nations, I believe, are united in another hope: That every government will abstain from itself attempting, or aiding others to attempt, the subversion, coercion, infiltration or destruction of other governments in order to gain political or material advantage or because of differences in philosophies, religions or ideologies."

Undoubtedly, in the drafting of the President's address, there were many minds in our government which worked long and carefully over those phrases. For they say, in effect, that there can be no peace in the world till all governments are free and only when Soviet Russia gives up her strategy of international communism, with its objective of world conquest. Back in 1933 the Soviet Union pledged itself in writing to abandon those objectives, and diplomatic recognition was granted by the United States on that specific condition. Is the Soviet Union ready to make another pledge, and will it keep that pledge this time?

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The paper-thin type of apartment construction is a failure, which ought to be forbidden by public authority. Poured-concrete pillars, beams and floors are of doubtful strength. There have been two spectacular crashes of new concrete buildings, but the slush had not yet had time to set, so the evidence is not all in yet on that point. An earthquake might produce fascinating casualties and debris. The hum-drum blast of a gas-bomb such as despondent ladies prepare by turning on the kitchen jets so that electric spark of the doorbell sets off all hell, has proved the ruggedness of honest, old-fashioned steel frame construction. But concrete is brittle, and has yet to meet the test.

We tried concrete cargo ships in the first war and they were a turkey, because they had no stretch. Neither have these new buildings, some of which are candied up with Hollywood effects in the lobbies, which are only a come-on for gullible nesters wearily searching for somewhere to light. The doorman's uniform is no comfort to people trying to sleep while plumbing valves boom like artillery far into the night and radio's and TV's whinny and squawk on the other side of walls shaved down to two inches by cheeseparing genius at the drawing board.

Until the strength of concrete construction is demonstrated by some inevitable routine explosion that question will be debatable. Design will be involved, too, in this test.

A three-room apartment crowded with cooking gas, with doors and windows shut, is a formidable bomb. I was standing on a corner one morning when a lady ended it all in a steel-frame apartment four blocks away and the blow was worse than any I heard at less distance from the biggest bombs the Germans had in the first war. But the building took it with ease.

One night I was sitting on rewrite in the old World Building when a strange shake came and I was sent over to the Woolworth, which had a seismograph, to inquire whether this had been a quake.

Miles Vaughan, on the desk, who had been in Panama and Japan, got up and stood under a big carrying-beam. He said this was customary in earthquake country and, although New York was not known as such, he knew this was a quake. The Woolworth tower twizzled quite a bit. Concrete can not twizzle. However, Raymond Hood, the architect who built much of New York's modern skyline, used to say that in a very bad shake a steel frame would stand up, to be sure, but that the masonry would fall off and hit people on the head. This could be very injurious.

On my reference to this cheese-paring motive in building design some time ago, I got a learned letter from Robert B. Newman, of Bolt, Beranek and Newman, "consultants in acoustics," in Cambridge, Mass. This delighted me because my conclusions had delighted him, and he a savant. He said, "a number of us have been greatly concerned about this and, both in professional practice and in our teaching at M.I.T., have cried out against the growing tendency toward transparent construction."

He said my primitive speculation was really quite accurate.

"Thin, lightweight walls simply cannot stop sound. One must either have a good, heavy brick wall (eight inches or the like) or resort to double construction, using two separated leaves of lighter material. Thin, lightweight materials are no good for sound isolation. Every architect and engineer has bulletins of the Bureau of Standards reporting the results of tests.

"The economic situation seems to have forced a continual cheaping of construction with consequent lowering of standards. Hotels have been built with partitions reduced to two inches rather than five or six inches, to gain a room or so per floor. This results in substandard privacy. Much could be done to get rid of certain structure-borne noises by the application of basic principles of resilient isolation. There is an annex to hell for architects and builders who perpetrate the thin-partitioned monstrosities you have described."

Leo F. Caproni, of Caproni Associates, architects and engineers, New Haven, wrote that manufacturers had been "thrusting at U. S. construction materials and methods that are altogether too flimsy—thin partitions, thin floors, and metallic ceiling supports which telephone sounds from one room to another. We have to weed out new products which do not meet the general requirements of good construction and good living."

Another expert said reinforced concrete pillars did not conduct sound but admitted that the worst noise of these hives was caused by tremendous pressure against inappropriate plumbing, valves, suitable for warehouses, in flimsy, ornate apartments built by speculators for quick sale. This is terrible construction and a failure just the same, even if it does not fall down. Hundreds of thousands of poor wretches are doomed to the torture of needless noise for years to come.

A TOWN COMES BACK

The people of Udall, Kansas, are rebuilding their town.

In the latter part of May a tornado swept across Kansas and when it had departed Udall was all but erased from the map. No buildings remained that were undamaged and all but a few were flattened. Of the 600 inhabitants of the town 77 were killed and 200 others given hospital treatment.

But the people of Udall are getting back on their feet. They are picking up the debris that lies where their houses and churches and schools once stood and they are wasting no time feeling sorry for themselves.

The federal government has appropriated money and various relief organizations have moved in to help. The people are grateful for the assistance but they know that the big part of the job is theirs and they are not shirking it. Trade unions have volunteered their work. Industries have contributed materials. Neighbors are helping neighbors.

The Mayor of Udall spoke for his townsmen when he said: "Give us a year, or maybe eighteen months, and you won't know this town."

Udall took a beating but it isn't beaten. Its story should be told everywhere, for it speaks of the power and persistence of human courage.

IN THE AGONY COLUMNS

The London "Times," as everybody knows, publishes really top news on its front page—it is a melange of want ads and agony ads, all mixed up, but always read. For years, I have looked for the advertisements of Kirkland Bridge Church Restorations Ltd. I must confess that often I have thought up a column from its inspiration. The writing is masterly.

On the verge of the recent election, Kirkland Bridge produced an advertisement which contains this unbelievable paragraph:

"We must learn to work again—if I dare whisper that robust word 'work' in these days of Full Employment—yes, you heard George, I said work—plain, hard, eight-hours-a-day honest work; we have forgotten how to sweat; why, last week when 194 miners were threatened with dismissal, they increased their output from 10 to 80 tons of coal per day; and in one week produced as much coal as they had done in the previous two months. Try and find me a shorthand-typist whose best friends are not her eraser, powder-compact, and wrist-watch—'What about holidays?—Time off for the hairdresser?—Do you work Saturday?'—juniors, clerks, drivers, domestic helps, waiters, chefs, painters, skilled and unskilled workers—it is the same tale everywhere. The blunt fact is that with full employment and the million-to-one chance of winning the Treble Chance too many of us are clock-watchers, tea-makers, and waiters-for-pay-day: working at the rate of 30 minutes an hour we are being paid at the rate of 60 minutes an hour—and then grumble at the cost of living."

The world is much the same, operating on the law of supply and demand. In England, they have a tea break and we have a coffee break when all the boys and girls quit for conversation and refreshments. Maybe it breaks the monotony but it is not pushing the job.

The 40-hour week will soon be reduced to 30 and perhaps that is why there are so many accidents on the road. What do people do with all the hours they have to do nothing? Perhaps they go in for "Do It Yourself" or they play Hi-Fi recordings or they just sit around and yap until their talk gets them into a fight and they end up in a separation.

Of course, the vogue of the soft-shelled book, which is bought in the drug-store and on the news stands, developed as the hours of leisure increased, but so did juvenile delinquency take on its present sinister forms. If parents are not bogged down with long hours of labor, why cannot they take better care of their children? Have they lost the art or do they no longer know what to say? It is not enough to talk of the birds and the bees; it might be of some avail to speak of God's moral law if one can think of that.

Over in England, they wondered about leisure and what would become of the morale of a people with so few hours of work for their daily bread. I can still recall when there was leisure because there were no jobs and what did we do with leisure then? Nobody really worried about the evils of leisure when a worker had all day off because he had no work to do. Why are we so frightened by it now?

And is it really necessary to sweat? Let the machine sweat. Robert A. Taft used to say that it was the particular mark of capitalistic progress if men produced more by less work at higher pay. For that, he was called a reactionary although it seemed to me that the history of liberalism is the advance of all mankind from the clod who labored from sunrise to sunset for a bare living to the leisure classes which are served by mechanical slaves while all men and women become philosophers and poets.

But they do not want to be philosophers and poets. They want to be what they would have been if they worked 12 hours a day. They want to watch somebody else be a philosopher and poet and songwriter and singer and dancer and all the things that come on television. Who can really say what is the correct use of the leisure for another man?

WHY BACK BRACES ARE WORN

It is amazing the number of persons we meet these days who are wearing a brace or corset for support or protection of the back. The two main reasons for the wearing of the back brace is for the relief of pain and for the protection of the back while it is healing from some injury or operation.

We hear a great deal about "discs" in the spine and it is felt that these are by far the most common cause of back diability, particularly in the low back. The majority of these cases can be helped by the wearing of a brace although when there are very acute episodes of pain and protrusion of the disc, more intense treatment in the form of bed rest, traction or surgery may be required.

The second group requiring back braces are, as mentioned, those who have had some injury or operation to the spine. Common are the "whiplash" injuries which, as we mentioned a few days ago, frequently occur in automobile accidents. This condition is helped by early treatment with backbracing which may need to be kept on for as long as three months.

Operations on the spine may be for fractures or bone grafts. In both of these cases, the patient will have a period of time in bed during which most of the healing will occur. When the patient first gets up, and for some time thereafter, the new bone, which has been formed, is weak and may be damaged by too much movement. During this stage, the protection of a brace is required and should be continued for several months from the date of operation.

How long should the brace be worn? When it is worn for the relief of pain from degenerative disc disease, we should remember that sometimes the pain goes away and the brace may be left off; then again, it may return and necessitate the rewearing of the support. As a general rule, a three-month trial period is enough as the acute phase is often over by that time. If the symptoms persist despite wearing a brace for this length of time, then other more intensive treatment may have to be considered.

It has alreday been mentioned that when the brace is being worn to protect injuries, three months should be enough for soft tissue damage, such as the "whiplash" and "sprung back," and at least six months if there has been damage to the bone from fracture or bone graft.

There also are less common conditons, such as defects of the spine present from time of birth and osteoporosis (when the bone becomes porous), occurring in old age or after the menopause in which the spine needs the support and protection of a brace.

U.N.'s Tenth Anniversary---Still Coexisting

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Emergency Press Headquarters, Operation (not very) Alert (NEA) — Everybody here wanted to take the simulated H-bomb attack on 54 American cities seriously, but somehow it just didn't come off.

In a huge, factory-type structure that had served as a temporary government office building in World War 2, 150 newsmen assembled to report on how the government would function in case Washington was knocked out and all the big shots evacuated.

Somebody had thoughtfully provided desks and typewriters in a long room whose walls were tinted a restful green.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary at the White House, was in charge with other information specialists from the Departments of State, Defense, Agriculture, Post Office and so on. The only trouble was there wasn't any news, much, to give out.

Nevertheless Snyder went into his act and called his first press conference, gravely, right after the alert was sounded.

HE ANNOUNCED THAT the President had left Washington. Secretary of Defense Wilson had taken off in a helicopter. Mrs. Hobby had arrived safely at a relocation center—wherever that was—in a station wagon.

But then the questions started raining down on Snyder's head. Could it be assumed that the U. S. Strategic Air Command had simulated a retaliatory attack? It would be comforting to know.

Snyder allowed as how nothing could be assumed till he announced it.

In that case, asked a reporter, could Mr. Snyder simulate a question to the Department of Defense and ask them if they were going to simulate a retaliatory attack on the enemy? And who was the simulated enemy?

Snyder said he would try. Four hours later he got back the answer from some unidentified source that "retaliation was not a part of this exercise." Also, that even if there was retaliation, the reporters wouldn't be told about it.

WHO THE ENEMY WAS that had attacked never was identified.

At 1:30 Snyder announced that the President would broadcast for one minute at 3:00. The reporters went to lunch in the cafeteria provided in the basement.

When they came back it was discovered there was no radio or TV receiver in the place. The news broadcasters had brought down only transmitting equipment. So it was a couple of hours before the press headquarters found out what the President said.

Other bugs developed in rapid succession.

It was several hours after New York was hit before the press headquarters heard about it. It developed that this wasn't the information headquarters after all. That was some place else and it assembled then relayed the news to the press headquarters at the end of the line.

"I'm wondering what I'm doing here," commented one veteran White House reporter. "We're the last to learn anything."

The news pool of 12 reporters accompanying the President was, in the meantime, doing much better. It relayed to press headquarters such illuminating bulletins as this one announced by Mr. Snyder:

"THE PRESIDENT has left the place where he has been for his own headquarters, with his staff. His relocation site has been moved."

Mimeographed handouts began appearing. There were 16 in the first eight hours. One of them, from Department of Defense, said that army research engineers had developed a new aerial tramway for landing supplies from ship to shore. Department of Agriculture had developed a new gas mask filter.

This was a help. It showed that even if the government was bombed out, it could still issue handouts.

The climax came at 7 p. m., when Gov. Val Peterson, the Civil Defense administrator, flew in for a press conference in which he announced that the theoretical casualties would be in the millions and that the exercise was a success, even though the results were negative.

A bulletin handout from Mrs. Hobby announced that "it had been a very stimulating exercise."

Moral Code of West Is Stressed by President

By DAVID LAWRENCE

San Francisco, June 21 — There is here an atmosphere of hope for the peace of the world. An opportunity to express that hope is the main reason why they are celebrating the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

To say over and over again that the world wants peace is not a futile gesture, because moral force—which is the sum total of the currents of public opinion everywhere—does manage to penetrate the most difficult barriers.

When, therefore, the President of the United States stands before the representatives of 60 nations and articulates the moral code which the American people stand for, it is a distinct gain. Bearing in mind that Foreign Minister Molotov of the Soviet Union and the other envoys from the satellite states are here, it is thrilling to hear the President saying to them face to face the truths that the Western World considers paramount as a basis for peace.

"Justice, decency and liberty," says Mr. Eisenhower, are imbedded in the United Nations Charter—if all nations would only observe them.

"The right to select in full freedom" the individuals who conduct government, no matter what its form, is the President's second concept.

"Free access to historical and current facts and information" as indispensable to the maintenance and operation of "a system of self-government" is the third point emphasized.

"No nation has a right to employ force aggressively against any other," proclaims the President as he carries further the theme that it is "the first responsibility of every nation to provide for its own defense" and that it has "the clear right to associate itself with other like-minded peoples for the promotion of their common security."

The President was naturally compelled to express his thoughts in implicit phrases. For at this gathering it would have been ill-advised and in bad taste to have done otherwise. But, reading the speech carefully, it will be observed that Mr. Eisenhower didn't really pull any punches. He reiterated the fundamentals of international morality for which the Western nations fought in the last war and which they still hold to be prerequisite to a firmly established peace.

Mr. Eisenhower has left it to the U. S. Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, to make an explicit pronouncement on American foreign policy later in the week. But already those who may have doubts as to the wisdom of this celebration can be assured that the reaffirmation of basic ideals has in itself given a tone to the United Nations conference which must inevitably overflow into the other conference being held here concurrently at which arrangements are to be made with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov for the meeting "at the summit" in Geneva next month. The only clew to Mr. Eisenhower's thoughts on this was a noncommittal paragraph in his speech, which read as follows:

"Within a month there will be a four power conference of heads of government. Whether or not we shall then reach the initial decisions that will start dismantling the terrible apparatus of fear and mistrust and weapons erected since the end of World War 2, I do not know."

The whole world echoes the anxiety in the phrase, "I do not know." But one thing is clear—the burden of proof is on the Communists who have made necessary the building up of a terrible apparatus of military power. If, as it sometimes hinted, there is now a change in the Soviet attitude, the United States government indicates its readiness to listen with an open mind to any of their proposals. But the key to it all is contained in another paragraph of President Eisenhower's address, in which he said:

"We and a majority of all nations, I believe, are united in another hope: That every government will abstain from itself attempting, or aiding others to attempt, the subversion, coercion, infiltration or destruction of other governments in order to gain political or material advantage or because of differences in philosophies, religions or ideologies."

Undoubtedly, in the drafting of the President's address, there were many minds in our government which worked long and carefully over those phrases. For they say, in effect, that there can be no peace in the world till all governments are free and only when Soviet Russia gives up her strategy of international communism, with its objective of world conquest. Back in 1933 the Soviet Union pledged itself in writing to abandon those objectives, and diplomatic recognition was granted by the United States on that specific condition. Is the Soviet Union ready to make another pledge, and will it keep that pledge this time?

Detroit (AP) — The Michigan racoon hasn't had it so rough since the racoon coat fad of the 1920s. The Davy Crockett hat craze is to blame. Racoon tails used to sell roughly at 5 cents wholesale. The Davy Crockett hat clamor sent them up to as much as 50 cents apiece.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The paper-thin type of apartment construction is a failure, which ought to be forbidden by public authority. Poured-concrete pillars, beams and floors are of doubtful strength. There have been two spectacular crashes of new concrete buildings, but the slush had not yet had time to set, so the evidence is not all in yet on that point. An earthquake might produce fascinating casualties and debris. The hum-drum blast of a gas-bomb such as despondent ladies prepare by turning on the kitchen jets so that electric spark of the doorbell sets off all hell, has proved the ruggedness of honest, old-fashioned steel frame construction. But concrete is brittle, and has yet to meet the test.

We tried concrete cargo ships in the first war and they were a turkey, because they had no stretch. Neither have these new buildings, some of which are candied up with Hollywood effects in the lobbies, which are only a come-on for gullible nesters wearily searching for somewhere to light. The doorman's uniform is no comfort to people trying to sleep while plumbing valves boom like artillery far into the night and radio's and TV's whinny and squawk on the other side of walls shaved down to two inches by cheeseparing genius at the drawing board.

Until the strength of concrete construction is demonstrated by some inevitable routine explosion that question will be debatable. Design will be involved, too, in this test.

A three-room apartment crowded with cooking gas, with doors and windows shut, is a formidable bomb. I was standing on a corner one morning when a lady ended it all in a steel-frame apartment four blocks away and the blow was worse than any I heard at less distance from the biggest bombs the Germans had in the first war. But the building took it with ease.

One night I was sitting on rewrite in the old World Building when a strange shake came and I was sent over to the Woolworth, which had a seismograph, to inquire whether this had been a quake.

Miles Vaughan, on the desk, who had been in Panama and Japan, got up and stood under a big carrying-beam. He said this was customary in earthquake country and, although New York was not known as such, he knew this was a quake. The Woolworth tower twizzled quite a bit. Concrete can not twizzle. However, Raymond Hood, the architect who built much of New York's modern skyline, used to say that in a very bad shake a steel frame would stand up, to be sure, but that the masonry would fall off and hit people on the head. This could be very injurious.

On my reference to this cheese-paring motive in building design some time ago, I got a learned letter from Robert B. Newman, of Bolt, Beranek and Newman, "consultants in acoustics," in Cambridge, Mass. This delighted me because my conclusions had delighted him, and he a savant. He said, "a number of us have been greatly concerned about this and, both in professional practice and in our teaching at M.I.T., have cried out against the growing tendency toward transparent construction."

He said my primitive speculation was really quite accurate.

"Thin, lightweight walls simply cannot stop sound. One must either have a good, heavy brick wall (eight inches or the like) or resort to double construction, using two separated leaves of lighter material. Thin, lightweight materials are no good for sound isolation. Every architect and engineer has bulletins of the Bureau of Standards reporting the results of tests.

"The economic situation seems to have forced a continual cheaping of construction with consequent lowering of standards. Hotels have been built with partitions reduced to two inches rather than five or six inches, to gain a room or so per floor. This results in substandard privacy. Much could be done to get rid of certain structure-borne noises by the application of basic principles of resilient isolation. There is an annex to hell for architects and builders who perpetrate the thin-partitioned monstrosities you have described."

Leo F. Caproni, of Caproni Associates, architects and engineers, New Haven, wrote that manufacturers had been "thrusting at U. S. construction materials and methods that are altogether too flimsy—thin partitions, thin floors, and metallic ceiling supports which telephone sounds from one room to another. We have to weed out new products which do not meet the general requirements of good construction and good living."

Another expert said reinforced concrete pillars did not conduct sound but admitted that the worst noise of these hives was caused by tremendous pressure against inappropriate plumbing, valves, suitable for warehouses, in flimsy, ornate apartments built by speculators for quick sale. This is terrible construction and a failure just the same, even if it does not fall down. Hundreds of thousands of poor wretches are doomed to the torture of needless noise for years to come.

Communists Seek to Upset Singapore Law and Order

By LARRY ALLEN

Singapore, June 21 (AP) — Malaya's Communists are driving hard to upset law and order in this rich British Crown colony.

Strikes are spreading. Rioting is being fomented. Communist-inspired Chinese high school students are openly defying the police and challenging all constituted authority.

BUSINESSMEN in this great Far Eastern port city—one of the world's busiest — face the future with undisguised fear and skepticism.

The 17,000 whites on Singapore island are beginning to fear for their lives.

A storm of protest is rising swiftly against the new labor front government headed by David Marshall, a Singapore attorney. Civic organizations and individuals are bombarding his office with demands for vigorous action to curb industrial unrest and lawbreaking lest this rubber and tin metropolis becomes "a lawless city."

OF THE CITY'S 1,167,000 people, 910,000 are Chinese. Marshall, with an eye to elections four years hence, is reluctant to hit troublemakers hard—and most of them are Chinese. He says now is the time for "nursing" rather than whipping the students who, siding with strikers, have spearheaded rioting and hostile demonstrations against the government.

Sparking the threatened violence is the most intensive subversive campaign the Red Chinese underground has waged on the island colony since it unleashed guerrilla warfare in the jungles upcountry in the spring of 1948. The Communists apparently feel that Marshall's "go easy" policy leaves the door wide open to a determined effort against law and order.

ON THE MALAYAN mainland, the Communists have slackened direct armed attacks on villages, towns, highway convoys and communications. But in Singapore they appear set upon getting the upper hand by wile and subversive tactics.

About 7,000 of the 80,000 students in private Chinese high schools form the hard core of resistance to the government. They lead the open defiance of police orders, march in picket lines, by loudspeakers urge strikers to fight on until their demands are met. When the government threatened to expel ringleaders and close three of their schools, the students threatened "serious trouble" and the authorities backed down.

POLICE FINALLY did arrest 127 pickets for obstructing them. But big gatherings of students and strikers still go on.

The students say they want no interference with the Red Chinese doctrines they are being taught in many of their classes. They have forced teachers to quit when they tried to teach courses prescribed by the government. They have staged "sit-in" strikes or refused to attend classes.

The government, which pays for part of the instruction, feels English and principles of democracy must be taught. But Marshall and his ministers haven't found a way to see that it is.

MARSHALL'S young regime also is being plagued by spreading industrial unrest which at times threatens to "paralyze" the city's transport and commercial life. As fast as one walkout appears settled, another is started. There are recurrent threats of mass sympathy strikes whenever a work stoppage occurs at any plant or factory or transportation system. A general strike last week brought out less than a seventh of the colony's labor force. But the unions made clear they would try again.

There are 136 unions in Singapore. No officials knows how many are Communist-infiltrated or Red-inspired.

BUT WORKERS often blandly admit Communist activity, with the explanation that the Communists are only supporting the workers in "their legal, just demands."

But the best possible investigation indicates that Red agents are spending considerable sums of money, that they are infiltrating their agitators into student bodies and into workers and trade union organizations.

Communists Seek to Upset Singapore Law and Order

By LARRY ALLEN

Singapore, June 21 (AP)—Malaya's Communists are driving hard to upset law and order in this rich British Crown colony.

Strikes are spreading. Rioting is being fomented. Communist-inspired Chinese high school students are openly defying the police and challenging all constituted authority.

BUSINESSMEN in this great Far Eastern port city—one of the world's busiest — face the future with undisguised fear and skepticism.

The 17,000 whites on Singapore island are beginning to fear for their lives.

A storm of protest is rising swiftly against the new labor front government headed by David Marshall, a Singapore attorney. Civic organizations and individuals are bombarding his office with demands for vigorous action to curb industrial unrest and lawbreaking lest this rubber and tin metropolis becomes "a lawless city."

OF THE CITY'S 1,167,000 people, 910,000 are Chinese. Marshall, with an eye to elections four years hence, is reluctant to hit troublemakers hard—and most of them are Chinese. He says now is the time for "nursing" rather than whipping the students who, siding with strikers, have spearheaded rioting and hostile demonstrations against the government.

Sparking the threatened violence is the most intensive subversive campaign the Red Chinese underground has waged on the island colony since it unleashed guerrilla warfare in the jungles upcountry in the spring of 1948. The Communists apparently feel that Marshall's "go easy" policy leaves the door wide open to a determined effort against law and order.

ON THE MALAYAN mainland, the Communists have slackened direct armed attacks on villages, towns, highway convoys and communications. But in Singapore they appear set upon getting the upper hand by wile and subversive tactics.

About 7,000 of the 80,000 students in private Chinese high schools form the hard core of resistance to the government. They lead the open defiance of police orders, march in picket lines, by loudspeakers urge strikers to fight on until their demands are met. When the government threatened to expel ringleaders and close three of their schools, the students threatened "serious trouble" and the authorities backed down.

POLICE FINALLY did arrest 127 pickets for obstructing them. But big gatherings of students and strikers still go on.

The students say they want no interference with the Red Chinese doctrines they are being taught in many of their classes. They have forced teachers to quit when they tried to teach courses prescribed by the government. They have staged "sit-in" strikes or refused to attend classes.

The government, which pays for part of the instruction, feels English and principles of democracy must be taught. But Marshall and his ministers haven't found a way to see that it is.

MARSHALL'S young regime also is being plagued by spreading industrial unrest which at times threatens to "paralyze" the city's transport and commercial life. As fast as one walkout appears settled, another is started. There are recurrent threats of mass sympathy strikes whenever a work stoppage occurs at any plant or factory or transportation system. A general strike last week brought out less than a seventh of the colony's labor force. But the unions made clear they would try again.

There are 136 unions in Singapore. No officials knows how many are Communist-infiltrated or Red-inspired.

BUT WORKERS often blandly admit Communist activity, with the explanation that the Communists are only supporting the workers in "their legal, just demands."

But the best possible investigation indicates that Red agents are spending considerable sums of money, that they are infiltrating their agitators into student bodies and into workers and trade union organizations.

Food Industry Plans Less Kitchen Work

New York, June 21 (AP)—The food industry plans to take still more of the drudgery out of kitchen work. And it counts on using the atom to make better food and automation to provide cheaper food.

Americans will spend about 65 billion dollars this year for food. That is four times as much as before World War 2. Even if you take into account the fact that the dollar buys only a little more than half as much now, that's still twice as much being spent for food now as 15 years ago.

Leaders of the food processing industry are in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., today for the mid-year meeting of the Grocery Manufacturers of America. Here are some of the things they say are in store:

LOWER PRICES can be achieved in the next few years through greater volume of production. And they count heavily on increased automation in the industry to bring this about. By that they mean that new machinery and new processes for handling and distributing food should cut materially the present high costs that add to the price of food from the time it leaves the farm until it reaches the grocery.

The revolution in the kitchen is to continue and may be speeded up in the near future. What the industry calls convenience foods have brought about the revolution. Packaged foods that eliminate the kitchen drudgery by preparing vegetables and fruit and even meats ahead of time are to be increased in number and volume.

SINCE WORLD War 2 consumption of processed foods has increased 45 per cent — while population was climbing 15 per cent.

Two thirds of the grocery manufacturers report that new product development—with the emphasis on convenience — will get most of their company's attention in coming years.

Research is going to be the watchword of the industry from now, in the opinion of GMA's president, Paul S. Willis. He describes some of the projects under consideration now as "breathtaking." Here are a few:

Atomic radiation is expected to play a double role. First, it's believed that in the years ahead radio activity will show the farmer how to produce better food stuffs, and more cheaply. It is also counted upon to combat the insects and disease that plague the farmer now. Second, atomic science is expected to have a major impact on food processing.

THERE IS a good chance that soon manufacturers will be exposing various foods to atomic radiation to eliminate bacteria and thereby greatly increase shelf life of their products.

Radioactive tracers can be used to insure control of quality and make inspection easy.

Further in the future, perhaps, are other food ideas that scientists are toying with today. One is an atempt to convert green algae from the sea into food, both for livestock and for people. The algae is about 50 per cent protein and it is thought that around 100 tons of algae per acre of salt water could be produced here at a cost of about 20 cents a pound.

Scientists have just harnessed sunlight to create sugar and starch out of carbon dioxide and water. This is the first time this has ever been done outside the living cells of green plants. What food manufacturers will be doing with that sometime is anyone's guess today.

Bidding Reveals Concealed Slam

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

In today's hand the bidding was fairly simple up to the point where North bid four spades. It's worth noticing, however, that South opened with one club, rather than one spade, with five cards in each of the black suits. This is often done with hands of moderate strength, to keep the bidding low until a fit is found.

West's jump overcall was a sort of shutout, showing a good suit but little defensive strength. Those who use this kind of jump overcall cannot make a jump overcall with a really good hand but must make a takeout double to show strength.

When North raised to four spades, he wasn't sure that South had a five-card suit. North was willing to raise even a four-card spade suit since he could ruff hearts in the short trump hand, thus protecting South against heart leads.

At this stage South felt confident that his partner had good clubs, one of the red aces, and some sort of fit for spades. There would be a good play for slam if North had the ace of hearts or a singleton heart. How could South find out?

South found out by making a "fake" cue-bid of five diamonds. In theory this bid should show the ace of diamonds, but South was willing to risk deceiving his partner.

If North lacked the ace of diamonds, he would believe the bid. Then, however, North would surely have the ace of hearts and would be able to make the answering cue-bid of five hearts. South would then jump to six spades.

North actually held the ace of diamonds and knew that South must be worried about the hearts. If North had held a worthless doubleton in hearts, he would have signed off at five spades, and South would have passed. Since North had a singleton heart he could afford to carry on to the slam level, and South thus got to the laydown slam contract.

Further in the future, perhaps, are other food ideas that scientists are toying with today. One is an atempt to convert green algae from the sea into food, both for livestock and for people. The algae is about 50 per cent protein and it is thought that around 100 tons of algae per acre of salt water could be produced here at a cost of about 20 cents a pound.

Scientists have just harnessed sunlight to create sugar and starch out of carbon dioxide and water. This is the first time this has ever been done outside the living cells of green plants. What food manufacturers will be doing with that sometime is anyone's guess today.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bidding Reveals Concealed Slam

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

In today's hand the bidding was fairly simple up to the point where North bid four spades. It's worth noticing, however, that South opened with one club, rather than one spade, with five cards in each of the black suits. This is often done with hands of moderate strength, to keep the bidding low until a fit is found.

West's jump overcall was a sort of shutout, showing a good suit but little defensive strength. Those who use this kind of jump overcall cannot make a jump overcall with a really good hand but must make a takeout double to show strength.

When North raised to four spades, he wasn't sure that South had a five-card suit. North was willing to raise even a four-card spade suit since he could ruff hearts in the short trump hand, thus protecting South against heart leads.

At this stage South felt confident that his partner had good clubs, one of the red aces, and some sort of fit for spades. There would be a good play for slam if North had the ace of hearts or a singleton heart. How could South find out?

South found out by making a "fake" cue-bid of five diamonds. In theory this bid should show the ace of diamonds, but South was willing to risk deceiving his partner.

If North lacked the ace of diamonds, he would believe the bid. Then, however, North would surely have the ace of hearts and would be able to make the answering cue-bid of five hearts. South would then jump to six spades.

North actually held the ace of diamonds and knew that South must be worried about the hearts. If North had held a worthless doubleton in hearts, he would have signed off at five spades, and South would have passed. Since North had a singleton heart he could afford to carry on to the slam level, and South thus got to the laydown slam contract.

Film Industry Is Urged by Pope to Ban Corruption

Vatican City, June 21 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, in his first major address on motion pictures, today called upon "men of good will" in the giant industry to ban corrupt films.

The 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church spoke to leaders of the industry in Italy, stars and starlets, writers and scene builders and shifters.

TOGETHER with pilgrims from various countries, including groups from France who came here for the Beatification Sunday of 19 martyrs of the French revolution, the Pope received them in a big general audience in St. Peter's Basilica.

In all, about 10,000 persons were in the basilica. They cheered the Pontiff as he was brought in on his portable throne.

The Pope plunged immediately into a long speech on the motion picture industry, describing it as one "of almost magical power."

"THE EXTRAORDINARY influence of the cinema on present-day society is shown by the growing thirst which society has for it," said the Pontiff.

He said that, according to statistics given to him, movie attendance throughout the world in 1954 totaled 12 billion. The United States led with 2½ billion.

Their first power of attraction, he said, springs from technical qualities which "perform the prodigy of transferring the spectator into an imaginary world."

BUT, HE SAID, an even greater attraction is provided by the artistic element...which makes the spectator "a prisoner of the world unfolding before his eyes."

"Because of this inner power of the moving picture, and because of its wide influence on the masses of men and even on moral practices," he said, "it has drawn the attention not only of competent civil and ecclesiastical authority, but also of all groups possessed of calm judgment and a genuine sense of responsibility."

The Pope said that the watchfulness of public authorities over motion pictures is "fully justified by law to defend the common civil and moral heritage."

"IT WOULD certainly be desirable," he said, "if good men would agree in banning corrupt movies wherever they are shown, and to combat them with the legal and moral weapons at their disposal.

"Yet such action is not by itself enough."

The Pope then urged his listeners to reject whatever is "unworthy or evil...whatever debases human dignity, the individual and common good and especially our youth."

The Pontiff then turned his attention to what he considers the ideal film—"that," he said, "which lacks nothing of what is proper to it, and which possesses to a perfect degree what is due." The first quality which should mark the ideal film, he said, is respect for man.

"Doubtless," said the Pope, "the ideal film is allowed to lead the weary and jaded spirit to the threshold of the world of illusion, so that it may enjoy a brief respite from the pressure of real existence.

"However, it should take care not to clothe the illusion with such a form that it be taken for reality by minds which are weak and without sufficient experience."

Deliveries Halted

New York, June 21 (AP)—Deliveries of bottled Coca-Cola in New York and northern New Jersey have been halted by a wildcat strike of truck drivers. The stoppage yesterday shut off deliveries of the bottled beverage for stores, bars, baseball parks, restaurants, hotels, racetracks and other outlets. It did not affect the supply of syrup for soda fountains. Thomas L. Hickey, international vice president of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, called the walkout unauthorized.

Rewards Spur Efforts

West Palm Beach, Fla., June 21 (AP)—Spured by rewards totaling $58,000, state, county and city investigators continued their efforts today to solve the mystery of the missing Circuit Judge and his wife. Latest reward of $10,000 was announced yesterday by Kirk Sullivan, an attorney, in behalf of Mayor Harold S. Vanderbilt of Manalapan, where the missing jurist was a member of the town council. Sullivan said Vanderbilt was posting the reward on the same terms as $25,000 offered Sunday by members of the judge's family.

Predicts More Mergers

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—The banking editor of the New York Journal of Commerce predicts that 1955 will produce "the largest number of bank mergers since 1931." Ed Tyng, addressing the 50th annual convention of the Lithographers National Assn. Inc. last night, said also that there would be a "substantial number" of bank mergers in 1956 "and then perhaps a tapering off." The lithographers' convention opened yesterday and closes Wednesday.

Washington, June 21 (AP) — A navy spokesman says Arthur Godfrey has resigned his navy commander's commission because he feels he can serve all the armed forces better by having no official tie with any of them. The spokesman said yesterday that was the reason given by the radio-television personality. Godfrey lost his navy flying rating when he passed up the required periodical physical examination.

Anniversary Year Committees Named By Musical Society

From an informal smorgasbord in October to an exciting "menu" of original compositions by club members in June the 25th anniversary festivities will dominate the 1955-1956 season for members of the Musical Society of Kingston.

Outlining next year's plans at the June meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Mrs. John MacKinnon also announced appointment of the following new committees: program, Mmes. W. E. Rylance, Lloyd LeFever, Amos Newcombe, John Snyder; social, the Misses Alberta Davis and Jane Mauterstock; membership, Mmes. Clyde Wonderly, Robert Stedge, Bertrand Bishop, publicity, Miss Anne Goldrick and Mrs. Deweese DeWitt. Mrs. Henry Millodig is chairman of a special silver anniversary committee. Her co-workers will be the Mmes. A. Noble Graham, Lester Decker and Bernard Forst.

MRS. JOHN SNYDER introduced the musical portion of the meeting, a program of modern Italian music and emphasis on opera.

"The warm-blooded, vivacious, musical Italian has always sung," commented Mrs. Snyder, "and it was given to Italy to make the first beautiful modern music." Verdi, head of the Italian musical evolution, infused new dramatic life into Italian opera, and left the world a legacy of unforgettable melodies.

In Mascagni's Cavalleria Rusticana, the realism of Verdi was joined by a new freedom of movement. Puccini further enriched the opera with a harmonic combination of his warm humaneness, brilliant theatre talent, and memorable melody.

"Italian music vividly reflects the landscape—the sky, the sea, the tumult in the streets," said Mrs. Snyder. "Italy is a fair land of song which through the ages has provided inspiration to all the world through her church music, oratorio, and opera."

THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM was presented: Danse Gracieuse by Parelli, Mrs. Willard Burke, piano; Punchinello from Pagliacci by Leoncavallo, Miss Ethel Mauterstock, piano; Musetta's Waltz Song from La Boheme by Puccini, Mrs. Bernard Forst, soprano; Drigo's Serenade, Nina by Pergolesi, and Caro Mio Ben by Giordani, soprono solos by Mrs. G. Alfred Nussbaum; Miserere from Verdi's II Trovatore and Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana, instrumental trios by Mrs. Burke, piano, Miss Alice Dunbar, flute, and Mrs. Donald E. Brown, violin. As a finale, all members present sang the Italian Street Song of Victor Herbert, accompanied by Mrs. Burke.

Mrs. A. Noble Graham and Mrs. Snyder were co-chairmen of the program. Mrs. Henry Dunbar and Miss Alice Dunbar served as hostesses.

Summer Session At New Paltz Begins, July 5

The 1955 summer session at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, will begin Tuesday, July 5, according to Dr. John H. Jacobson, dean of the college and director of the summer session.

A regular graduate program of elementary education and an intensive teacher training program, under the direction of Dr. Richard F. Klix, professor of education, is also being offered by the New Paltz State University Teachers College on the campus of the Long Island Agricultural and Technical Institute, Farmingdale, July 5.

During the main summer session at New Paltz from July 5 to August 12 will be a graduate program, an intensive teacher training program, and a program for junior high school teachers. A regular undergraduate program is scheduled for July 5 to August 26.

Other summer session programs include the annual summer meeting of the New York State Audio-Visual Council, July 8-9; the Retired Teachers Workshop, July 10-22; an Experiment in International Living, August 12-26; the Annual Administrator's Institute, August 12; and the Workshops in Reading, Arithmetic, and Driver Education, August 15-16.

The graduate program, for in-service teachers and persons working toward master of science degrees, consists of two, three-week sessions, and students may register for either session or both. Advanced undergraduate students may also enroll.

In the intensive teacher training program, graduates may become certified to teach in the elementary schools. After the first summer session they may begin teaching on temporary certificates and then may renew the certificates after successful teaching and continued summer study. They are eligible for permanent certificates when they have earned 30 graduate credits and have completed two years of successful teaching.

The program for Junior high school teachers offered at New Paltz for the first time this year, is designed mainly for students with a four-year degree in elementary education who want temporary extensions of elementary certificates to enable them to teach in junior colleges. Permanent junior high school certificates are awarded after the students have earned 30 credits and have completed two years of successful teaching on the junior high school level.

The undergraduate program is for regular students on an accelerated schedule who want to complete four years of study in three years and three summer sessions.

Dr. Jacobson suggested that anyone interested in these programs should write to the Director, Summer Sessions, State University Teachers College, New Paltz.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder how many folks remember the big fireman parade of June 21, 1928. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was chairman of the big event which had 104 companies, 60 bands of music, and 8,000 marchers. Chief of Police, J. Allan Wood directed a force of some 75 assistants, having a policeman on every intersection. There was also a number of state police on duty. Even trolley cars were sent to the barn, for the march went the full width of the street. It took two hours and 15 minutes to cover a given point. Each division was headed by mounted men in uniform. Mickey Husta led the 4th division on a handsome white charger. Even the two hand drawn fire wagons were there, one from Weiner Hose and the other from Union Hose. The parade was reviewed at the Grand Stand by Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey and other officials. The sun hid behind rain clouds but the rain did not fall luckily until the parade was over. The parade left the Strand, at Hasbrouck avenue at 2:00 o'clock headed by Fire Chief J. L. Murphy, as grand marshal, and the mounted state troopers were in command of Captain Fox. It was a glorious parade with folks from all over Rondout packing the streets to view the beginning of it. The firemen have never forgotten Rondout when it comes to parades.

Now going back to Friday, August 24th, 1883 when the Firemen's Grand Parade and Convention was held in Kingston, which was covered in a local newspaper loaned to me some time ago by Dick Smith of Abeel street. The item said that for the Firemen's Convention of 1883, every building and store along the parade route was handsomely decorated. "Every flag pole was created with the stars and stripes, and in some instances, houses were fairly covered with small flags and bunting. Along Union avenue (now Broadway) all kinds of novelty stands and side-shows were in full blaze." The parade route was turned into a mammoth carnival. The horse cars went double up the hill, every five minutes, and even then the conductors cried out, "No standing room!" Driving was simply impossible on many streets, all this before the parade even got under way.

Luckily the rain of the previous evening had laid the dust and tempered the extreme heat. Chief Engineer Richard Mooney and his aides kept galloping up and down the Kingston streets on their fine steeds. "Meanwhile the grandstands on both sides of Union avenue at the City Hall were packed with people and the lawn as well as O'Reilly Grove opposite, (where the High School is now.) The street was so full of traffic and people that the street cars began to have difficulty running along their track. The various fire companies kept arriving meanwhile and marching and counter-marching to get in line, with numerous bands trying out their instruments. It gave folks plenty to see and hear before the parade even got underway. The procession was about two miles long, so before its return from Rondout, reaching uptown Kingston, the folks down in Rondout had not yet seen the last organization pass. Mayor Bray of Kingston had as his guest, the Mayor of Hudson and other officials at the City Hall grand stand. The streets along the entire line of march were crowded for folks from the nearby cities as well as from Ulster county were all on hand to watch the parade of 1883.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: The Broadway musical, "Seventh Heaven," has already had some record industry by-products. Producer Gant Gaither has had such success with the score, the work of Victor Young, that he'll continue using recording composers in his next effort. That will be an adaptation of Anita Loos' "The Great Caresse," and Gaither has signed LeRoy Anderson to set that one to music. And one of the hits in "Seventh Heaven", Robert Clary, has recorded his first album of songs for Epic.

If you're fussy about your records, here are some tips on the care and feeding of your precious disks. They come from Eli Oberstein, president of Allegro-Royale.

Always wash your hands with soap and water before handling records, keep them in albums or paper jackets when not in use; store them in a dry spot away from artificial heat or direct sunlight.

Better still, never play them at all.

Paul Whiteman is about to embark on Venture No. 3675 (give or take a few thousand) in his long career. He will be permanent MC on the band show which will take over for Jackie Gleason during the summer over CBS-TV.

Pops, as the great conductor is sometimes called, is also making a new album, which must be Venture No. 3676. This one will contain some of the old dance favorites, like the Turkey Trot and Charleston, plus one new dance, "Jukin'." which he'll introduce on the TV show.

Whiteman is producing the dance album with Fred Astaire, who knows a little something about dancing.

These two projects are enough to start Pops talking about music in general. You might expect a man of his stature (professional, not physical) to be one of those music-isn't-what-it-used-to-be boys. But far from it.

"Music is just as good," he says, "and records are better. Men like Percy Faith and Mantovani play the same kind of stuff I used to play, but the sound on records today is so wonderful it makes for better recording."

Whiteman also thinks talent today is every bit as good, vocal cord for vocal cord, as it's always been.

"Sometimes, though," he says, "it comes up too fast and you get swollen head trouble. Actually, talent should come up slower. It takes a while to develop. I remember when Bing Crosby was just starting out with me, he was one of the Rhythm Boys, there was a time I couldn't give him away.

Summer Session At New Paltz Begins, July 5

The 1955 summer session at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, will begin Tuesday, July 5, according to Dr. John H. Jacobson, dean of the college and director of the summer session.

A regular graduate program of elementary education and an intensive teacher training program, under the direction of Dr. Richard F. Klix, professor of education, is also being offered by the New Paltz State University Teachers College on the campus of the Long Island Agricultural and Technical Institute, Farmingdale, July 5.

During the main summer session at New Paltz from July 5 to August 12 will be a graduate program, an intensive teacher training program, and a program for junior high school teachers. A regular undergraduate program is scheduled for July 5 to August 26.

Other summer session programs include the annual summer meeting of the New York State Audio-Visual Council, July 8-9; the Retired Teachers Workshop, July 10-22; an Experiment in International Living, August 12-26; the Annual Administrator's Institute, August 12; and the Workshops in Reading, Arithmetic, and Driver Education, August 15-16.

The graduate program, for in-service teachers and persons working toward master of science degrees, consists of two, three-week sessions, and students may register for either session or both. Advanced undergraduate students may also enroll.

In the intensive teacher training program, graduates may become certified to teach in the elementary schools. After the first summer session they may begin teaching on temporary certificates and then may renew the certificates after successful teaching and continued summer study. They are eligible for permanent certificates when they have earned 30 graduate credits and have completed two years of successful teaching.

The program for Junior high school teachers offered at New Paltz for the first time this year, is designed mainly for students with a four-year degree in elementary education who want temporary extensions of elementary certificates to enable them to teach in junior colleges. Permanent junior high school certificates are awarded after the students have earned 30 credits and have completed two years of successful teaching on the junior high school level.

The undergraduate program is for regular students on an accelerated schedule who want to complete four years of study in three years and three summer sessions.

Dr. Jacobson suggested that anyone interested in these programs should write to the Director, Summer Sessions, State University Teachers College, New Paltz.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder how many folks remember the big fireman parade of June 21, 1928. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was chairman of the big event which had 104 companies, 60 bands of music, and 8,000 marchers. Chief of Police, J. Allan Wood directed a force of some 75 assistants, having a policeman on every intersection. There was also a number of state police on duty. Even trolley cars were sent to the barn, for the march went the full width of the street. It took two hours and 15 minutes to cover a given point. Each division was headed by mounted men in uniform. Mickey Husta led the 4th division on a handsome white charger. Even the two hand drawn fire wagons were there, one from Weiner Hose and the other from Union Hose. The parade was reviewed at the Grand Stand by Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey and other officials. The sun hid behind rain clouds but the rain did not fall luckily until the parade was over. The parade left the Strand, at Hasbrouck avenue at 2:00 o'clock headed by Fire Chief J. L. Murphy, as grand marshal, and the mounted state troopers were in command of Captain Fox. It was a glorious parade with folks from all over Rondout packing the streets to view the beginning of it. The firemen have never forgotten Rondout when it comes to parades.

Now going back to Friday, August 24th, 1883 when the Firemen's Grand Parade and Convention was held in Kingston, which was covered in a local newspaper loaned to me some time ago by Dick Smith of Abeel street. The item said that for the Firemen's Convention of 1883, every building and store along the parade route was handsomely decorated. "Every flag pole was created with the stars and stripes, and in some instances, houses were fairly covered with small flags and bunting. Along Union avenue (now Broadway) all kinds of novelty stands and side-shows were in full blaze." The parade route was turned into a mammoth carnival. The horse cars went double up the hill, every five minutes, and even then the conductors cried out, "No standing room!" Driving was simply impossible on many streets, all this before the parade even got under way.

Luckily the rain of the previous evening had laid the dust and tempered the extreme heat. Chief Engineer Richard Mooney and his aides kept galloping up and down the Kingston streets on their fine steeds. "Meanwhile the grandstands on both sides of Union avenue at the City Hall were packed with people and the lawn as well as O'Reilly Grove opposite, (where the High School is now.) The street was so full of traffic and people that the street cars began to have difficulty running along their track. The various fire companies kept arriving meanwhile and marching and counter-marching to get in line, with numerous bands trying out their instruments. It gave folks plenty to see and hear before the parade even got underway. The procession was about two miles long, so before its return from Rondout, reaching uptown Kingston, the folks down in Rondout had not yet seen the last organization pass. Mayor Bray of Kingston had as his guest, the Mayor of Hudson and other officials at the City Hall grand stand. The streets along the entire line of march were crowded for folks from the nearby cities as well as from Ulster county were all on hand to watch the parade of 1883.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: The Broadway musical, "Seventh Heaven," has already had some record industry by-products. Producer Gant Gaither has had such success with the score, the work of Victor Young, that he'll continue using recording composers in his next effort. That will be an adaptation of Anita Loos' "The Great Caresse," and Gaither has signed LeRoy Anderson to set that one to music. And one of the hits in "Seventh Heaven", Robert Clary, has recorded his first album of songs for Epic.

If you're fussy about your records, here are some tips on the care and feeding of your precious disks. They come from Eli Oberstein, president of Allegro-Royale.

Always wash your hands with soap and water before handling records, keep them in albums or paper jackets when not in use; store them in a dry spot away from artificial heat or direct sunlight.

Better still, never play them at all.

Paul Whiteman is about to embark on Venture No. 3675 (give or take a few thousand) in his long career. He will be permanent MC on the band show which will take over for Jackie Gleason during the summer over CBS-TV.

Pops, as the great conductor is sometimes called, is also making a new album, which must be Venture No. 3676. This one will contain some of the old dance favorites, like the Turkey Trot and Charleston, plus one new dance, "Jukin'," which he'll introduce on the TV show.

Whiteman is producing the dance album with Fred Astaire, who knows a little something about dancing.

These two projects are enough to start Pops talking about music in general. You might expect a man of his stature (professional, not physical) to be one of those music-isn't-what-it-used-to-be boys. But far from it.

"Music is just as good," he says, "and records are better. Men like Percy Faith and Mantovani play the same kind of stuff I used to play, but the sound on records today is so wonderful it makes for better recording."

Whiteman also thinks talent today is every bit as good, vocal cord for vocal cord, as it's always been.

"Sometimes, though," he says, "it comes up too fast and you get swollen head trouble. Actually, talent should come up slower. It takes a while to develop. I remember when Bing Crosby was just starting out with me, he was one of the Rhythm Boys, there was a time I couldn't give him away.

AN OVERNIGHT GUEST

A reader asks: "When staying in a friend's house for the night, is one supposed to make up the bed before leaving in the morning?

No — unless you are coming back that night or at the latest the next day to sleep in the same bed. Since your hostess could hardly let another person sleep in the sheets that you have slept in, you would give your hostess double work by having to take everything off the bed before making it up fresh.

Unhappy Situation

Dear Mrs. Post: My father passed away since my wedding announcements were made up. No engraved invitations were made up as we planned to marry rather quietly with personal notes of invitation being sent to those few who were to be invited to the wedding. (We intend to go ahead with our plan and be married next week.) However, we don't know what to do about the announcements. Both my mother's and father's names appear on them. I would like to know if we can possibly send them out as they are, or could a line be drawn through the "Mr. and," or must they be destroyed and new ones made up?

Answer: If you can readily afford new ones, I think you should have them by all means. But if the cost would be hard to meet, surely everyone will understand and not criticize you for drawing a line through "Mr. and."

Suitability of Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to a large lunch party which is to be held at a very nice restaurant. My "best" dress, which I would like very much to wear, has a rhinestone belt and it is because of this that I am wondering if it would be inappropriate to wear in the daytime. I want to look my best but certainly don't want to wear anything that is unsuitable.

Answer: I see no objection to a rhinestone buckle or other decoration on your belt if it is inconspicuous and not what anyone could think gaudy.

What dress is worn by the guest at the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Clothes for daytime or evening receptions are described in leaflet E-6. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

AN OVERNIGHT GUEST

A reader asks: "When staying in a friend's house for the night, is one supposed to make up the bed before leaving in the morning?

No — unless you are coming back that night or at the latest the next day to sleep in the same bed. Since your hostess could hardly let another person sleep in the sheets that you have slept in, you would give your hostess double work by having to take everything off the bed before making it up fresh.

Unhappy Situation

Dear Mrs. Post: My father passed away since my wedding announcements were made up. No engraved invitations were made up as we planned to marry rather quietly with personal notes of invitation being sent to those few who were to be invited to the wedding. (We intend to go ahead with our plan and be married next week.) However, we don't know what to do about the announcements. Both my mother's and father's names appear on them. I would like to know if we can possibly send them out as they are, or could a line be drawn through the "Mr. and," or must they be destroyed and new ones made up?

Answer: If you can readily afford new ones, I think you should have them by all means. But if the cost would be hard to meet, surely everyone will understand and not criticize you for drawing a line through "Mr. and."

Suitability of Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to a large lunch party which is to be held at a very nice restaurant. My "best" dress, which I would like very much to wear, has a rhinestone belt and it is because of this that I am wondering if it would be inappropriate to wear in the daytime. I want to look my best but certainly don't want to wear anything that is unsuitable.

Answer: I see no objection to a rhinestone buckle or other decoration on your belt if it is inconspicuous and not what anyone could think gaudy.

What dress is worn by the guest at the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Clothes for daytime or evening receptions are described in leaflet E-6. ## Miss Helen Ehman, John McDonough Wed at St. Joseph's

The wedding of Miss Helen Marie Ehman and John W. McDonough took place Sunday, June 19, at St. Joseph's Church, at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Alfred Glancy officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ehman of Holdfast, Saskatchewan, Can. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McDonough of 15 Prospect street, Saugerties.

Robert Gallo was soloist for the ceremony. He was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Frank W. Rafferty.

The bride was given in marriage by her father before an altar banked with yellow and white gladioli. She wore a white floor length gown fashioned with strapless bodice of nylon tulle over satin, and a fitted jacket of Chantilly lace designed with a small collar, long sleeves tapered to the wrist, and tiny lace-covered button down the back. The full skirt of nylon tulle over bridal satin was decorated with appliques of lace flowers with iridescent sequins, with a scalloped hem. Her imported French silk illlusion veil was gathered to a cap of lace and pleated tulle with seed pearl trim. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and gladioli with white tulle.

Mrs. Harry S. Wiands of 288 Washington avenue was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a floor length gown of aqua nylon tulle and lace with strapless bodice and fitted lace jacket. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow gladioli and tulle.

Vincent J. Kenney of Glens Falls served as best man. Jerome Daley of West Camp was usher.

A reception at the Flamingo restaurant, Saugerties road, for 50 guests followed. Frankie Zano's orchestra played for dancing.

For the wedding trip to New England, the bride chose a traveling ensemble of a printed cotton sheath dress, linen toast duster with a matching print lining, avocado accessories and an orchid corsage. On their return, they will live at 119 Elm street, Saugerties.

The bride, a graduate of Holdfast High School, and Success Business College, Regina, Saskatchewan, Can., was receptionist at WKNY radio station.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School, attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Today's Game

N. Y. Panthers vs. Jones Dairy.

Dobler's Brewmeisters made merry in the early stages of their 1955 City Baseball League debut yesterday. Then they held off a rugged Ferraro Bowlodrome rally in the bottom of the sixth to gain a 12-8 victory.

By the end of three innings, Manager George Magley's tossers had racked up a 10-2 lead. After six turns at bat, the Doblers were ahead 12-2.

THE DOCILE Bowlodrome hitters suddenly aroused themselves and chased six runs across the plate and starter Gerry Bechtold out of the game before Frank Reis came on to nail down the last two putouts.

Darkness had almost enveloped the Athletic Field by that time and Umpire Francello called the game.

Starter Pete Tiano, who had excelled in a relief role in the Bowlodrome's first outing against Jones Dairy, was wild in the early going and was tagged for 8 runs in less than three innings. Fondino pitched the rest of the way.

BECHTOLD yielded nine hits, including three by Ralph Tiano, in 5 1/3 innings.

In Doblers' seven-run third inning uprising Johnny Armstrong's stroll, George Glaser's single and a hit batsman (Joe Benjamin) loaded the sacks with none out. Tiano walked Bechtold to force in Armstrong. Billy Glaser scored his brother George with a singleton and Mike Rienzo was plunked with a pitch forcing in Benjamin. Bud Scheffel's one baser accounted for two more.

BILL OLEN and Ralph Tiano launched Bowlodrome's sixth inning rally with back to back singles. Herzog flied deep enough to score Tiano. Carpino walked and in rapid succession came singles by Pete Tiano, Orlando Felipe and Parise. Bob Watzka was safe on a fielder's choice. Fondino's one timer delivered Parise and Felipe. Ralph Tiano, up for the second time, drilled a single to right scoring Watzka. Reis took over at this point and retired the side without further damage.

J. Parise and Bill Olen hit safely twice each for the Bowlodrome. The Glaser brothers accounted for two hits and Johnny Armstrong tripled for the winners.

Jones Dairy sends Bruce Bechtold against Bob Maines in this evening's game at 6:15 p. m.

If history repeats itself, Clarence Raichle of Twaalfskill should be Ulster county amateur golf champion for the second time come Sunday afternoon at Twaalfskill.

"Dubby," as the one-time boy wonder is affectionately known by the afacionados, put himself in strong position with his sparkling 69 in the opening round at Woodstock. In the 1952 event, Raichle took the first day lead with a 75 at Palenville when the linksmen sweated through USGA playing rules and went on to win with a 302 total.

Several formidable names are within striking distance of the Twaalfskill golf chairman and with 36 holes remaining anything can happen. Such stalwarts as Bill Van Aken, Leon Randall, Maurice Davenport are close to the leader. And there is always George Hughes with a horrendous 5-6-5 start and opening card of 75. But as it looks now history could repeat and Dubby might be stepping up to accept his second Herdegen Memorial plaque some time around 4 o'clock next Sunday.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Hughes' 5-6-5 was, of course, his worst getaway in the five-year history of the tournament. . . . Pro Jim Hutchins and President Tony DeLisio and the Woodstock CC staff deserve high praise for the magnificent condition of the course. The greens were beautiful and the course was finely manicured and trimmed. . . . Two young aces broke into the top ten—Steve DeLisio of Woodstock with a 75 and Jim Oulton of Twaalfskill with a 74. . . . Ray Smith, the Palenville pro, was a clubhouse visitor, and drew praise for the excellen improvements on the Rip Van Winkle layout, once the mecca of county linksmen.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Popularity of the Herdegen Memorial remains constant. This year's entry of 51 tied the tournament mark set in 1953. . . . Shawangunk's layout is being revamped with some improvements on the fourth hole but Brad Bradford's layout will stil play at par 68. . . . Raichle's one-under-par 69 was one of the few sub-par rounds in the five-year tourney. . . . The all-time record is the 63 posted by Hughes in the 1951 event at Woodstock. . . . Bill Van Aken fired a 69 at Wiltwyck in 1952. . . . Alvin Boice had a 3-under-par 67 at Woodstock in 1953 and Hughes was one under with 67 at Shawangunk last year. . . . The 24 survivors in the original field of 51 will battle for the Herdegen plaque and nine merchandise prizes. Sudden death playoff will be held, if necessary for the 24th position. Scores of 158 or under are expected to qualify.

Betty Flint Davenport, who was on her way to becoming the best woman golfer in the county, left last week to join her husband, Richard Davenport, with the U. S. Army near Munich, Germany. . . . Tournament Tattling: New York State men's amateur will be played at Moon Brook Country Club, Binghamton, on July 6-10. Area qualifying for state amateur will be held at Dutchess Country Club Wednesday (June 22) . . . Any member of any club in good standing with the USGA is eligible. State women's championship (54 holes of medal play) carded for plush Schuyler Meadows near Albany July 13-14-15. . . . The $2,000 Seneca Open slated Sunday, June 26, at Seneca Falls Country Club. Woodstock CC dedicated its new cocktail lounge with an all-time record attendance Saturday night. Twaalfskill enjoyed another succulent steak roast with huge quantities of cows being consumed. Don't forget the Cancer Fund hole-in-one tournament that starts this evening at Herb Kessman's driving range on Albany avenue extension.

JCC TENNIS CHAMPIONS: Marty Kantrowitz and Dirk Oudemool, Junior and Boys division winners in the Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament are shown with JCC officials at Forsyth Park. In usual order: Seymour Werbalowsky, JCC tennis chairman; Harman Folkerts, Onteora; Dird Oudemool, who defeated Ron Schoonmaker, 6-3, 6-3 in Boys finals; Marty Kantrowitz, Junior winner (6-0, 6-0) in Junior finals; Rear—Bob Beaumont, Jules Vilielmo and Robert MacKinnon of the JCC committee. ## Pita Rallies To KO Poirer In Classic Brawl

New York, June 21 (AP)—Oscar Pita, the latest Argentine import, and Gene Poirier, an ex-platoon sergeant from Niagara Falls, N. Y., probably fought the "Fight of the Year" last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Pita won on an eighth-round knockout when Poirier had to be dragged back to his corner at the end of the round. Referee Ray Miller called it a knockout although the bell had rung.

Obviously Poirier, who had been leading on two of the three scorecards, was in no shape to continue.

PITA, unbeaten in 42 bouts, came in to shake hands with Poirier and added "you give me toughest fight."

Pita was down twice in the second, half falling through the ropes each time. Again in the fourth, Referee Miller ruled Pita had to take an eight-count although many thought he had slipped.

Poirier was decked for nine in the eighth before he finally was flattened.

Judge Tony Rossi had it 6-2 for Poirier and Judge Artie Schwartz 5-2-1 also for Poirier. Referee Miller scored it even 4-4. The Associated Press card was 4-3-1 for Poirier.

A crowd of 1,300 paid $1,910 to see the televised bout.

The Cotton Bowl All-Star team, selected by sports writers, includes Sammy Baugh and Ki Aldrich who played in the first game 19 years ago.

Saxton Launches Comeback With KO

Brockton, Mass., June 21 (AP)—Former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton hit the comeback trail by stopping Jimmy Fuller of Wilmington, Del., in one minute of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder last night at Maple Arena.

Saxton, surprisingly heavy at 153½, landed almost at will before Referee Eddie Curley halted the one-sided action. Fuller, who weighed 156, was floored for a mandatory eight count in the fourth.

When Harry Harvey won the 1953 Hambletonian with Helicopter he was 29 and the youngest driver ever to win the rich trotting test.

Indians Nip Giants, 6-5 For Tie in Esopus Loop

Nellie Streaks To Third Place

New York, June 21 (AP)—Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox, who has hit safely in his last 16 games, boosted his average 28 points during the week to move into third place in the American League batting race behind Detroit's Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn.

The Sox' second baseman, in advancing from seventh place, went 16-for-31 and is hitting .329. Kaline continues to set the pace with a .379 average and Kuenn is runnerup at .343.

PHILADELPHIA'S Richie Ashburn, boasting a 12-game hitting streak, maintains his National League batting supremacy with a .350 mark. The speedy outfielder collected 11 hits in 32 trips, but lost one point.

Don Mueller of the New York Giants climbed into second place with .338 by raising his average 16 points. Mueller, seventh a week ago, had 14 hits in 32 at bats. Pittsburgh's Dale Long remains third at .335.

Johnny Carter's base-clearing triple in the fifth enabled the Indians to whip the Giants, 6-5, and create a first place tie between the teams in the Esopus Legion Little League yesterday.

At the same time it ruined a classic pitching performance for young Al Nembhardt, Giant starter who struck out 14 batters in five innings.

THE GIANTS behind Nembhardt were leading the Indians and Billy Boss, 5-2 when the Tribe came to bat in the fifth. Nembhard's wildness loaded the sacks and Carter moved into the picture with his triple. He also hit a single. Robert Miller had a one baser for the Indians.

Nembhardt had two of the Giants' five hits off Boss. Ritchie Alexander, Jim Tinney and Rolf Kruckas accounted for the others. Boss walked eight and fanned nine.

If history repeats itself, Clarence Raichle of Twaalfskill should be Ulster county amateur golf champion for the second time come Sunday afternoon at Twaalfskill.

"Dubby," as the one-time boy wonder is affectionately known by the afacionados, put himself in strong position with his sparkling 69 in the opening round at Woodstock. In the 1952 event, Raichle took the first day lead with a 75 at Palenville when the linksmen sweated through USGA playing rules and went on to win with a 302 total.

Several formidable names are within striking distance of the Twaalfskill golf chairman and with 36 holes remaining anything can happen. Such stalwarts as Bill Van Aken, Leon Randall, Maurice Davenport are close to the leader. And there is always George Hughes with a horrendous 5-6-5 start and opening card of 75. But as it looks now history could repeat and Dubby might be stepping up to accept his second Herdegen Memorial plaque some time around 4 o'clock next Sunday.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Hughes' 5-6-5 was, of course, his worst getaway in the five-year history of the tournament. . . . Pro Jim Hutchins and President Tony DeLisio and the Woodstock CC staff deserve high praise for the magnificent condition of the course. The greens were beautiful and the course was finely manicured and trimmed. . . . Two young aces broke into the top ten—Steve DeLisio of Woodstock with a 75 and Jim Oulton of Twaalfskill with a 74. . . . Ray Smith, the Palenville pro, was a clubhouse visitor, and drew praise for the excellen improvements on the Rip Van Winkle layout, once the mecca of county linksmen.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Popularity of the Herdegen Memorial remains constant. This year's entry of 51 tied the tournament mark set in 1953. . . . Shawangunk's layout is being revamped with some improvements on the fourth hole but Brad Bradford's layout will stil play at par 68. . . . Raichle's one-under-par 69 was one of the few sub-par rounds in the five-year tourney. . . . The all-time record is the 63 posted by Hughes in the 1951 event at Woodstock. . . . Bill Van Aken fired a 69 at Wiltwyck in 1952. . . . Alvin Boice had a 3-under-par 67 at Woodstock in 1953 and Hughes was one under with 67 at Shawangunk last year. . . . The 24 survivors in the original field of 51 will battle for the Herdegen plaque and nine merchandise prizes. Sudden death playoff will be held, if necessary for the 24th position. Scores of 158 or under are expected to qualify.

Betty Flint Davenport, who was on her way to becoming the best woman golfer in the county, left last week to join her husband, Richard Davenport, with the U. S. Army near Munich, Germany. . . . Tournament Tattling: New York State men's amateur will be played at Moon Brook Country Club, Binghamton, on July 6-10. Area qualifying for state amateur will be held at Dutchess Country Club Wednesday (June 22) . . . Any member of any club in good standing with the USGA is eligible. State women's championship (54 holes of medal play) carded for plush Schuyler Meadows near Albany July 13-14-15. . . . The $2,000 Seneca Open slated Sunday, June 26, at Seneca Falls Country Club. Woodstock CC dedicated its new cocktail lounge with an all-time record attendance Saturday night. Twaalfskill enjoyed another succulent steak roast with huge quantities of cows being consumed. Don't forget the Cancer Fund hole-in-one tournament that starts this evening at Herb Kessman's driving range on Albany avenue extension.

JCC TENNIS CHAMPIONS: Marty Kantrowitz and Dirk Oudemool, Junior and Boys division winners in the Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament are shown with JCC officials at Forsyth Park. In usual order: Seymour Werbalowsky, JCC tennis chairman; Harman Folkerts, Onteora; Dird Oudemool, who defeated Ron Schoonmaker, 6-3, 6-3 in Boys finals; Marty Kantrowitz, Junior winner (6-0, 6-0) in Junior finals; Rear—Bob Beaumont, Jules Vilielmo and Robert MacKinnon of the JCC committee. ## Saxton Launches Comeback With KO

Brockton, Mass., June 21 (AP)—Former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton hit the comeback trail by stopping Jimmy Fuller of Wilmington, Del., in one minute of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder last night at Maple Arena.

Saxton, surprisingly heavy at 153½, landed almost at will before Referee Eddie Curley halted the one-sided action. Fuller, who weighed 156, was floored for a mandatory eight count in the fourth.

When Harry Harvey won the 1953 Hambletonian with Helicopter he was 29 and the youngest driver ever to win the rich trotting test.

Pita Rallies To KO Poirer In Classic Brawl

New York, June 21 (AP)—Oscar Pita, the latest Argentine import, and Gene Poirier, an ex-platoon sergeant from Niagara Falls, N. Y., probably fought the "Fight of the Year" last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Pita won on an eighth-round knockout when Poirier had to be dragged back to his corner at the end of the round. Referee Ray Miller called it a knockout although the bell had rung.

Obviously Poirier, who had been leading on two of the three scorecards, was in no shape to continue.

PITA, unbeaten in 42 bouts, came in to shake hands with Poirier and added "you give me toughest fight."

Pita was down twice in the second, half falling through the ropes each time. Again in the fourth, Referee Miller ruled Pita had to take an eight-count although many thought he had slipped.

Poirier was decked for nine in the eighth before he finally was flattened.

Judge Tony Rossi had it 6-2 for Poirier and Judge Artie Schwartz 5-2-1 also for Poirier. Referee Miller scored it even 4-4. The Associated Press card was 4-3-1 for Poirier.

A crowd of 1,300 paid $1,910 to see the televised bout.

The Cotton Bowl All-Star team, selected by sports writers, includes Sammy Baugh and Ki Aldrich who played in the first game 19 years ago.

Indians Nip Giants, 6-5 For Tie in Esopus Loop

Nellie Streaks To Third Place

New York, June 21 (AP)—Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox, who has hit safely in his last 16 games, boosted his average 28 points during the week to move into third place in the American League batting race behind Detroit's Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn.

The Sox' second baseman, in advancing from seventh place, went 16-for-31 and is hitting .329. Kaline continues to set the pace with a .379 average and Kuenn is runnerup at .343.

PHILADELPHIA'S Richie Ashburn, boasting a 12-game hitting streak, maintains his National League batting supremacy with a .350 mark. The speedy outfielder collected 11 hits in 32 trips, but lost one point.

Don Mueller of the New York Giants climbed into second place with .338 by raising his average 16 points. Mueller, seventh a week ago, had 14 hits in 32 at bats. Pittsburgh's Dale Long remains third at .335.

Johnny Carter's base-clearing triple in the fifth enabled the Indians to whip the Giants, 6-5, and create a first place tie between the teams in the Esopus Legion Little League yesterday.

At the same time it ruined a classic pitching performance for young Al Nembhardt, Giant starter who struck out 14 batters in five innings.

THE GIANTS behind Nembhardt were leading the Indians and Billy Boss, 5-2 when the Tribe came to bat in the fifth. Nembhardt's wildness loaded the sacks and Carter moved into the picture with his triple. He also hit a single. Robert Miller had a one baser for the Indians.

Nembhardt had two of the Giants' five hits off Boss. Ritchie Alexander, Jim Tinney and Rolf Kruckas accounted for the others. Boss walked eight and fanned nine.

Hilltop Rallies in Seventh to Shatter Perry's 10-Game Streak

Al Cross Bests Venuti On Leiry's Long Fly

Hilltop registered a major upset in the City Softball League yesterday with a thrilling 4-3 victory over the previously unbeaten Perry's.

A two-run rally in the top of the seventh enabled the Hilltoppers to shatter Perry's 10-game winning streak as Cross checked the league leaders with seven hits and pitched shutout ball after the second inning.

LOCAL 259 scored three runs in the sixth to shade Kaplan Bag, 7 to 6 behind Harry Secreto. Hercules utilized a six-run third inning to beat Fuller-Skyline, 7-5, despite a seven-hit pitching chore by Don Osterhoudt.

Al Balducci's double with the bases loaded in the bottom of the seventh chased three runs across the plate and enabled Miron Lumber to shade Cedar Rest, 10-9. Ferrell McElrath and Frank Nadal shared the Miron pitching chores.

Trailing 3-2 going into the seventh, Hilltop launched its winning rally with a walk to Rockwell. McCardle fanned but B. Primo, who collected three hits, tripled to left center scoring Rockwell with the tying marker. A moment later Rockwell scored the winning run on Lierey's long fly.

ALLIE CROSS had to snuff out a counter threat by Perry's in the last of the seventh.

Primo with "3 for 3", a triple and two singles was the batting star against Perry's ace hurler—Joe Venuti. Rockwell, B. McCardle and Clyde Carter hit safely twice for Hilltop. Cliff Davis stroked two hits for losers and Carlo Perry hit a triple.

Miron's Lumberjacks scored in the last four innings to set the stage for Balducci's game-winning double. In all they collected 14 hits off Herb Dickerson, including three singles by McElrath. Balducci, Bob Felton, Johnny Peer and Bob Sickler hit safely twice. Swark and Markle bagged two hits for Cedar Rest.

SKYLINE tagged B. Walker for 13 hits but the Hercules pitcher was tough in the pinches after the third. Osterhoudt and Walker, the rival pitchers, hit homers. Vince Clearwater cracked a triple and two singles for Hercules.

Local 259 enjoyed two good innings at the expense of Stan Kaplan, with three runs in the fourth and three in the sixth. Harry Secreto yielded 12 hits but was returned the winner.

Joe Murkoff unloaded a triple and two singles for Kaplans. Jim Benicase, Tom Amato and Joe Ausanio each had two safeties for Local 259.

A Crown but no Takers

Olsen, Moore Both Want Marciano..Nothing Else

Light Heavy Champ Now 2-1 Favorite

By JACK HAND

New York, June 21 (AP)—Anybody want a slightly used light heavyweight crown?

Archie Moore owns it and middleweight champion Bobo Olson is challenging for it Wednesday night.

But nobody really wants it.

Ancient Archie, spry at 38, wants to fight Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight title in September. Olson talks of (1) Marciano (2) middleweights.

JIM NORRIS, president of the International Boxing Club, tossed a little wood on the fire yesterday when he discussed Marciano's September plans.

"I will talk with Al Weill (Marciano's manager) after the fight," he said. "A Moore match would be very desirable if he wins. But it all depends on how he wins it.

"If Olson should win and look real good, I'd like to match him with Marciano. I never talked to Weill about that match but I have talked to Sid Flaherty (Olson's manager)."

Moore eats, drinks and sleeps Marciano as he goes through his final training for his 15-round defense against Olson at the Polo Grounds. He carried on a winter-long campaign to convince fans and sports writers that he deserved the shot.

FLAHERTY HAS told the press at the Asbury Park, N. J., training camp that balding Bobo will risk his middleweight title aganst the winner of the July 15 San Francisco match between Ray Robinson and Rocky Castellani. He ignores the possibility that his 160-pound title will be declared vacated if he beats Moore under New York and National Boxing Association rules.

The odds favoring Moore lengthened to 2 to 1 today when it was generally accepted that he was down to the weight limit at about 175 pounds.

Moore boxed two rounds yesterday at his Summit, N. J. camp with Clint Bacon and may box a couple more today Olson shadow boxed and worked on the light bag yesterday. He will do nothing more strenous than taking a walk tomorrow.

The advance sale is "about $100,000" with Norris predicting 25,000 fans will pay $250,000 or more to see the fight.

Wilkes-Barre Decides to Stay In Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Schenectady Blue Jays may be losing their touch with the top-spot Williamsport Grays of the Eastern League.

The Grays opened the third series between the clubs with a 12-2 rout last night. Fourth-place Schenectady had won the two previous series.

Righthander Don Dangleis went the route for the host Grays for the sixth straight time.

Allentown gave the league leaders another push last night by whipping the second-place Binghamton Triplets 9-6 at Binghamton.

AT THE OTHER end of the league, Wilkes-Barre dropped an 8-7 decision to the cellar-riding Albany Senators.

Three home runs blasted by the Barons in the last two innings failed to halt the Senators. The loss dropped the Barons to seventh place behind the Elmira Pioneers, who were idle last night.

The board of directors of the Wilkes-Barre club announced last night that the Barons, plagued by poor attendance, would continue in the league for the remainder of the season.

President William Connolly said he was confidence the community would support the Barons. The board discussed plans to open a new drive to bring additional revenue to the club.

Reading lost an exhibition game, 5-4, to its parent club, the Cleveland Indians, 1954 American League champions.

The SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

Manager Leo Durocher may have diagnosed the whole National League pennant race when he explained why he benched Willie Mays, the darling of the New York Giants a year ago.

"Confused," is the way Leo pegged Willie's trouble. And if that doesn't describe the way the National League is behaving, it'll do until something better comes along.

This was supposed to be one of those "dream" races, with everybody getting into the act. Trouble is, the Brooklyn Dodgers rocketed away out front and have shown no signs of faltering while the other seven clubs grope around looking for a way out.

IT IS A PRETTY dandy race at that, if you exclude the Dodgers—who are 11 games out front with a 46-16 record.

The second place Cubs are just 2½ games up on Milwaukee. The Giants are another two games back and two games ahead of fifth place Cincinnati. Philadelphia and St. Louis are in a virtual tie for sixth another game back. Only Pittsburgh, 25½ games behind the Dodgers, is solid in the cellar.

Milwaukee moved up on the Cubs as Gene Conley won his ninth decision last night, 2-1 over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati, meanwhile, made it five straight defeats for the Mays-less Giants 5-3, and St. Louis topped Philadelphia 4-1 with rookie Luis Arroyo winning his eighth.

BROOKLYN AND the Cubs were idle. So was the entire American League — the circuit with the contest for a pennant.

Cincinnati pulled into fifth place by breaking Jim Hearn's hitless spell in a four-run fifth inning. Hearn contributed a run-scoring throwing error as the Red Legs got four singles and a double by Stan Palys in the frame.

Art Fowler went the route for the first time this season, winning his second. Dusty Rhodes and pinch-hitter Bill Taylor scored New York's runs with homers.

Snider's .698 Slugging Mark Tops National League Hitters

New York, June 21 (AP)—Brooklyn's Duke Snider, seeking to regain the National League slugging championship he lost to Willie Mays of the New York Giants last season, led the circuit in slugging today with a sizzling .698 average.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed that Snider has banged out 162 total bases in 232 official at bats. The Dodgers' center fielder has collected 74 hits, including 15 doubles, 2 triples and 23 homers. His home run total tops the majors.

Al Kaline, Detroit's sensational sophomore, is the American League pace-setter with a slugging mark of .603. He numbers 9 doubles, 5 triples and 11 homers among his 88 safeties for 140 total bases.

TED KLUSZEWSKI, Cincinnati's husky first baseman, is second to Snider with a .670 mark. He has pounded out 76 hits, 34 of them for extra-bases —13 doubles and 21 home runs.

Roy Campanella of Brooklyn is third with .637 as a result of 149 total bases in 234 trips. The burly catcher has 13 doubles, 1 triple and 19 homers among 77 hits.

The American League's runnerup is Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees with .602. The fleet outfielder shows the league-leading total of 16 homers in addition to 10 doubles and 6 triples. He has 69 hits and 139 total bases.

Vic Power of Kansas City is third with .519 on 109 total bases in 210 at bats. Power has compiled 14 doubles, 3 triples and 7 homers.

Ted Williams, the American League's slugging king last season who did not get into the Boston lineup until May 28 this year, has produced 57 total bases in 66 at bats for a phenomenal .864 mark. Williams has hit 5 doubles, 2 triples and 8 homers.

DeMarco Returns Against Vejar

Boston, June 21 (AP)—Tony De Marco, who lost the world's welterweight championship to Carmen Basilio 11 days ago, reportedly has signed to meet Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., in a 10-rounder in August.

The Boston Post, in a story by boxing writer Bill Liston, said the 23-year-old slugger who held the title only 70 days will open a campaign for another shot at the championship by meeting Vejar either Aug. 24 or 31 in the Boston Garden.

Hilltop Rallies in Seventh to Shatter Perry's 10-Game Streak

Al Cross Bests Venuti On Leiry's Long Fly

Hilltop registered a major upset in the City Softball League yesterday with a thrilling 4-3 victory over the previously unbeaten Perry's.

A two-run rally in the top of the seventh enabled the Hilltoppers to shatter Perry's 10-game winning streak as Cross checked the league leaders with seven hits and pitched shutout ball after the second inning.

LOCAL 259 scored three runs in the sixth to shade Kaplan Bag, 7 to 6 behind Harry Secreto. Hercules utilized a six-run third inning to beat Fuller-Skyline, 7-5, despite a seven-hit pitching chore by Don Osterhoudt.

Al Balducci's double with the bases loaded in the bottom of the seventh chased three runs across the plate and enabled Miron Lumber to shade Cedar Rest, 10-9. Ferrell McElrath and Frank Nadal shared the Miron pitching chores.

Trailing 3-2 going into the seventh, Hilltop launched its winning rally with a walk to Rockwell. McCardle fanned but B. Primo, who collected three hits, tripled to left center scoring Rockwell with the tying marker. A moment later Rockwell scored the winning run on Lierey's long fly.

ALLIE CROSS had to snuff out a counter threat by Perry's in the last of the seventh.

Primo with "3 for 3", a triple and two singles was the batting star against Perry's ace hurler—Joe Venuti. Rockwell, B. McCardle and Clyde Carter hit safely twice for Hilltop. Cliff Davis stroked two hits for losers and Carlo Perry hit a triple.

Miron's Lumberjacks scored in the last four innings to set the stage for Balducci's game-winning double. In all they collected 14 hits off Herb Dickerson, including three singles by McElrath. Balducci, Bob Felton, Johnny Peer and Bob Sickler hit safely twice. Swark and Markle bagged two hits for Cedar Rest.

SKYLINE tagged B. Walker for 13 hits but the Hercules pitcher was tough in the pinches after the third. Osterhoudt and Walker, the rival pitchers, hit homers. Vince Clearwater cracked a triple and two singles for Hercules.

Local 259 enjoyed two good innings at the expense of Stan Kaplan, with three runs in the fourth and three in the sixth. Harry Secreto yielded 12 hits but was returned the winner.

Joe Murkoff unloaded a triple and two singles for Kaplans. Jim Benicase, Tom Amato and Joe Ausanio each had two safeties for Local 259.

Olsen, Moore Both Want Marciano..Nothing Else

Light Heavy Champ Now 2-1 Favorite

By JACK HAND

New York, June 21 (AP)—Anybody want a slightly used light heavyweight crown?

Archie Moore owns it and middleweight champion Bobo Olson is challenging for it Wednesday night.

But nobody really wants it.

Ancient Archie, spry at 38, wants to fight Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight title in September. Olson talks of (1) Marciano (2) middleweights.

JIM NORRIS, president of the International Boxing Club, tossed a little wood on the fire yesterday when he discussed Marciano's September plans.

"I will talk with Al Weill (Marciano's manager) after the fight," he said. "A Moore match would be very desirable if he wins. But it all depends on how he wins it.

"If Olson should win and look real good, I'd like to match him with Marciano. I never talked to Weill about that match but I have talked to Sid Flaherty (Olson's manager)."

Moore eats, drinks and sleeps Marciano as he goes through his final training for his 15-round defense against Olson at the Polo Grounds. He carried on a winter-long campaign to convince fans and sports writers that he deserved the shot.

FLAHERTY HAS told the press at the Asbury Park, N. J., training camp that balding Bobo will risk his middleweight title aganst the winner of the July 15 San Francisco match between Ray Robinson and Rocky Castellani. He ignores the possibility that his 160-pound title will be declared vacated if he beats Moore under New York and National Boxing Association rules.

The odds favoring Moore lengthened to 2 to 1 today when it was generally accepted that he was down to the weight limit at about 175 pounds.

Moore boxed two rounds yesterday at his Summit, N. J. camp with Clint Bacon and may box a couple more today Olson shadow boxed and worked on the light bag yesterday. He will do nothing more strenous than taking a walk tomorrow.

The advance sale is "about $100,000" with Norris predicting 25,000 fans will pay $250,000 or more to see the fight.

Wilkes-Barre Decides to Stay In Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Schenectady Blue Jays may be losing their touch with the top-spot Williamsport Grays of the Eastern League.

The Grays opened the third series between the clubs with a 12-2 rout last night. Fourth-place Schenectady had won the two previous series.

Righthander Don Dangleis went the route for the host Grays for the sixth straight time.

Allentown gave the league leaders another push last night by whipping the second-place Binghamton Triplets 9-6 at Binghamton.

AT THE OTHER end of the league, Wilkes-Barre dropped an 8-7 decision to the cellar-riding Albany Senators.

Three home runs blasted by the Barons in the last two innings failed to halt the Senators. The loss dropped the Barons to seventh place behind the Elmira Pioneers, who were idle last night.

The board of directors of the Wilkes-Barre club announced last night that the Barons, plagued by poor attendance, would continue in the league for the remainder of the season.

President William Connolly said he was confidence the community would support the Barons. The board discussed plans to open a new drive to bring additional revenue to the club.

Reading lost an exhibition game, 5-4, to its parent club, the Cleveland Indians, 1954 American League champions.

THE SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

Manager Leo Durocher may have diagnosed the whole National League pennant race when he explained why he benched Willie Mays, the darling of the New York Giants a year ago.

"Confused," is the way Leo pegged Willie's trouble. And if that doesn't describe the way the National League is behaving, it'll do until something better comes along.

This was supposed to be one of those "dream" races, with everybody getting into the act. Trouble is, the Brooklyn Dodgers rocketed away out front and have shown no signs of faltering while the other seven clubs grope around looking for a way out.

IT IS A PRETTY dandy race at that, if you exclude the Dodgers—who are 11 games out front with a 46-16 record.

The second place Cubs are just 2½ games up on Milwaukee. The Giants are another two games back and two games ahead of fifth place Cincinnati. Philadelphia and St. Louis are in a virtual tie for sixth another game back. Only Pittsburgh, 25½ games behind the Dodgers, is solid in the cellar.

Milwaukee moved up on the Cubs as Gene Conley won his ninth decision last night, 2-1 over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati, meanwhile, made it five straight defeats for the Mays-less Giants 5-3, and St. Louis topped Philadelphia 4-1 with rookie Luis Arroyo winning his eighth.

BROOKLYN AND the Cubs were idle. So was the entire American League — the circuit with the contest for a pennant.

Cincinnati pulled into fifth place by breaking Jim Hearn's hitless spell in a four-run fifth inning. Hearn contributed a run-scoring throwing error as the Red Legs got four singles and a double by Stan Palys in the frame.

Art Fowler went the route for the first time this season, winning his second. Dusty Rhodes and pinch-hitter Bill Taylor scored New York's runs with homers.

Snider's .698 Slugging Mark Tops National League Hitters

New York, June 21 (AP)—Brooklyn's Duke Snider, seeking to regain the National League slugging championship he lost to Willie Mays of the New York Giants last season, led the circuit in slugging today with a sizzling .698 average.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed that Snider has banged out 162 total bases in 232 official at bats. The Dodgers' center fielder has collected 74 hits, including 15 doubles, 2 triples and 23 homers. His home run total tops the majors.

Al Kaline, Detroit's sensational sophomore, is the American League pace-setter with a slugging mark of .603. He numbers 9 doubles, 5 triples and 11 homers among his 88 safeties for 140 total bases.

TED KLUSZEWSKI, Cincinnati's husky first baseman, is second to Snider with a .670 mark. He has pounded out 76 hits, 34 of them for extra-bases—13 doubles and 21 home runs.

Roy Campanella of Brooklyn is third with .637 as a result of 149 total bases in 234 trips. The burly catcher has 13 doubles, 1 triple and 19 homers among 77 hits.

The American League's runnerup is Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees with .602. The fleet outfielder shows the league-leading total of 16 homers in addition to 10 doubles and 6 triples. He has 69 hits and 139 total bases.

Vic Power of Kansas City is third with .519 on 109 total bases in 210 at bats. Power has compiled 14 doubles, 3 triples and 7 homers.

Ted Williams, the American League's slugging king last season who did not get into the Boston lineup until May 28 this year, has produced 57 total bases in 66 at bats for a phenomenal .864 mark. Williams has hit 5 doubles, 2 triples and 8 homers.

Hole-in-One Starts Today

Competition in the Cancer Fund hole-in-one tournament at Kessman's driving range gets under way this evening at 6 p. m. and continues through Thursday.

Mayor Fred Stang is expected to tee off first. Pro J. Carson Hutchins of Woodstock will demonstrate. Alex Gerlak pro, and David McMeekin of Wiltwyck will follow.

DeMarco Returns Against Vejar

Boston, June 21 (AP)—Tony De Marco, who lost the world's welterweight championship to Carmen Basilio 11 days ago, reportedly has signed to meet Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., in a 10-rounder in August.

The Boston Post, in a story by boxing writer Bill Liston, said the 23-year-old slugger who held the title only 70 days will open a campaign for another shot at the championship by meeting Vejar either Aug. 24 or 31 in the Boston Garden.

STEER WRESTLING

IF IT'S THRILLS YOU WANT — IF IT'S SEEING RED BLOODED COURAGEOUS men and women taking chance after chance with the wildest Brahma Steers and Wild Horses, then you will want to see the Cherokee Ranch Rodeo which will appear at the Arlington Speedway, Poughkeepsie, three nights, June 27th, 28th and 29th, 8:30 p. m.

ONE of the 20 thrilling events in the Rodeo, is STEER WRESTLING. Two cowboys each riding a horse; especially trained—get a wild steer running at top speed between the two horses, one of the cowboys leaps from his horse in an attempt to lock his strong arms around the horns of the heavy steer. If he is successful in getting his hold, then he tries with all his strength and skill to wrestle the steer to the ground, but this cannot always be done. Many times the strongest must give up because of the wiry strength of the steer. Other times the steer actually throws the cowboy, or rips its horns at him.

Every second is thrilling to the extreme—and everyone of the 20 events on the program is chuck full of thrills and unusual entertainment. The Rodeo usually goes on rain or shine. The admission for adults is $1.50, children 50c.

Ford Suggestion Is Makers Band Together on Pay

Detroit, June 21 (AP) — Henry Ford II says it would be a good idea for the automakers to get together in the future and seek an industrywide contract with the CIO United Auto Workers.

The 37-year-old president of Ford Motor Co. said in an interview yesterday that he had had "informal talks" with other industry executives on the idea. He added that indications were General Motors Corp. would be against it, while Chrysler Corp. "might" be for it.

NEITHER the union nor the other companies would comment on the proposal. The Detroit News said, however, it had learned from reliable sources that GM "is strongly opposed."

Asked what effect he thought industrywide bargaining might have on smaller auto producers, Ford said he thought that problem "could be worked out."

American Motors Corp., which resumes contract negotiations with the UAW today, has said it is against "pattern settlements" in the industry and that each should be tailored to the firm it covers.

FORD SAID that industry-wide bargaining has been pretty well established in the steel and glass and some other industries, and added:

"After all, industries like steel and glass have a lot of plants, with special problems, and there are big producers and small producers. I think it could work out in the auto industry."

While he has discussed industrywide bargaining informally with other industry executives, Ford said: "We never have sat down for a formal session on the matter * * * I know some say it won't work in the auto industry. But how can they say that when it's never been tried. I think everything should be tried before we say that it can't work."

Ford and the UAW recently reached agreement on a guaranteed wage plan. GM and the union agreed on a similar one a week later.

SOME CRITICS have labeled the new three-year contracts "creeping socialism" which roused this comment from Ford: "A lot of people call everything we do creeping socialism. They called Social Security that and they called pensions that. * * * Every time we do something new, people cry that it's either communism of socialism. we have to keep up with the times."

faster than any previous method," and could thus aid in the identification of biological agents that might be spread by an enemy.

CREASY SAID also that in addition to individual gas masks and complicated mechanisms to provide protection against gas and germ warfare in larger buildings, there is now a new kind of wallboard which families could use to line bomb shelters.

This board is made of fibers, impregnated with activated charcoal which acts as a filter that will keep out biological agents, atomic or radioactive dust and at the same time permit the escape of carbon dioxide and vapors from occupants of the shelter, he said.

Reunited Flyers Plan Air Force Program, June 26

An American flyer was shot down over Rheine, Germany, 10 years ago while on a strafing mission.

The pilot was Emil L. Sluga, now an air force colonel and base commander of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh.

Flying wingman for the downed pilot was Lt. Ralph J. Nicodemus who saw him bail out and watched while he made a safe landing. Nicodemus then returned to England. At that time they were flying with the 355th Fighter Group, Eighth Air Force. Col. Sluga was taken prisoner by the Germans—it was March 21, 1945, the first day of spring—and was liberated at the close of the war a couple of months later.

Lt. Nicodemus, a resident of Kingston, is affiliated with the 9267th Air Reserve Squadron which on Sunday, June 26, is sponsoring an Air Force Reserve Preparedness Day program at Dietz Stadium.

Toady a happy reunion took place when Lt. Nicodemus and other members of the 9267th Air Reserve Squadron, Kingston, visited Stewart Field to seek assistance for the Preparedness Day program.

During the 10 years following the war Col. Sluga saw service with the Air Tactical School, Tyndall Air Field, Fla., and helped activate the squadron officer course of the Air University, Maxwell Field, Ala. He spent 30 months in the Far East, the last 28 months as commandant of the Far East Air Ground Operations School in Japan.

Visiting Stewart Air Force Base with Lt. Nicodemus were Maj. Fuller, Maj Rinaldi, Capt. Seifts, Lt. Conrad and Maj. Edward V. DeGroff of the 9267th Squadron. Preparedness Day will be held in Poughkeepsie Saturday, June 25, and in Kingston June 26.

The programs are designed to bring to public attention in the two cities exhibits, displays and aircraft demonstrating many phases of air force activity. Some 20 or 30 thousand persons are expected to attend the exercises at Dutchess County Airport, Poughkeepsie, and Dietz Stadium, Kingston.

Air force displays from Stewart AFB and other installations will be shown in store windows and at the airport and stadium on the two days. The Air Reserve Squadron is planning to have several types of aircraft, fire equipment, snow removal equipment, radio and electronic units, a guided missile and other items on display for citizens interested in the air force and its reserve outfits.

The cancer death rate among U. S. surgeons is only 66 per cent of the rate for the entire population.

Churchill Sees

the unveiling of the slightly larger-than-life bronze statue.

IN A TONE of sadness, Churchill voiced regret that "my dear wife, without whom I should certainly not have deserved this reward," was not able to attend the ceremony.

Lady Churchill is confined to her home with a broken wrist suffered in a recent fall in their home.

Whimsical over the tributes paid him, Churchill said:

"I am most grateful to you, my lord mayor, for the great kindness with which you have spoken about my work and character and I shall not hesitate to include it among my testimonials if ever I should be looking for another job.

"I must admit that I think the House of Commons has made a good rule in not erecting monuments to people in their lifetime. But I entirely agree that every rule should have an exception.

"THE FACT that you have done so in my case will both prove the rule and emphasize the compliment."

The statue was by sculptor Oscar Nemon.

Churchill, who wasn't at all pleased with the painting presented to him by Parliament on his 80th birthday, was pleased with the statue.

"I greatly admire the art of Mr. Oscar Nemon, whose prowess in the ancient realm of sculpture has won such remarkable modern appreciation," he said.

"I also admire this particular example . . . because It seems to be such a very good likeness."

THE OLD WARRIOR was alternately in a reminiscent mood and in the mood of a statesman looking ahead.

"I do not feel that our generation has any need to be abashed before our ancestors, or the famous ages of our history of which this hall so vividly reminds us," he said.

"But now I leave the past, and I leave the present. It is to the future that we must turn our gaze.

"I confess that, like Disraeli, I am on the side of the optimists. I do not believe that humanity is going to destroy itself.

"I HAVE FOR some time thought it would be a good thing if the leaders of the great nations talked freely to one another without too much of the formality of diplomacy. I am very glad that this is now going to happen and we could have no one more capable of representing us than our present prime minister.

"We must not count upon complete and immediate success. Whatever is the outcome, we must persevere in the maintenance of peace through strength, for that is our theme.

"A period of relaxation of tension may well be all that is now within one grasp. Even so, such a phase would not be sterile."

MASKED MARVEL—The U.S. Army's highly trained war dogs are so important in combat that they have their own gas masks to be worn in case of enemy attack. Here a scout dog and his handler participate in mock gas attack during maneuvers in Germany.

5 Youngsters Die In Traffic Accident

Somerville, N. J., June 21 (AP) —Death claimed five young lives near here last night in a headon truck-car collision. A sixth youth was critically injured.

The victims, returning from a church league softball game, crossed the center line of Rt. 206 to pass another car and smashed into the trailer truck loaded with 10-inch cement sewer pipe.

The truck jackknifed, and both car and truck rolled into an embankment, the pipes spilling on the road.

STATE POLICE identified the four young men and teen-age girl killed, all residents of Bradley Gardens, as Ralph Horton, 19, of Maple street, driver of the car; Francis Trout, 26; Stephen Chonko, 17, Robert Lawyer, 15; and Lawanda Serofino, 17.

Still in critical condition at Somerset Hospital is 17-year-old James Cordick.

The driver of the truck, Herman Walsh, 30, of Rosendale, N. Y., was treated for knee injury and shock and released.

An eyewitness, William Daughaday, Martinsville insurance man, told police the youngsters passed him and several other cars minutes before smashing into the truck.

Daughaday said he saw the lights of the truck, then heard a scream, saw a cloud of dust and pipes flying everywhere.

Life Expectancy Increase

Since 1901 the expectation of life at age 40 has been increased about four years for white men and seven years for white women in the United States.

Ford Suggestion Is Makers Band Together on Pay

Detroit, June 21 (AP) — Henry Ford II says it would be a good idea for the automakers to get together in the future and seek an industrywide contract with the CIO United Auto Workers.

The 37-year-old president of Ford Motor Co. said in an interview yesterday that he had had "informal talks" with other industry executives on the idea. He added that indications were General Motors Corp. would be against it, while Chrysler Corp. "might" be for it.

NEITHER the union nor the other companies would comment on the proposal. The Detroit News said, however, it had learned from reliable sources that GM "is strongly opposed."

Asked what effect he thought industrywide bargaining might have on smaller auto producers, Ford said he thought that problem "could be worked out."

American Motors Corp., which resumes contract negotiations with the UAW today, has said it is against "pattern settlements" in the industry and that each should be tailored to the firm it covers.

FORD SAID that industrywide bargaining has been pretty well established in the steel and glass and some other industries, and added:

"After all, industries like steel and glass have a lot of plants, with special problems, and there are big producers and small producers. I think it could work out in the auto industry."

While he has discussed industrywide bargaining informally with other industry executives, Ford said: "We never have sat down for a formal session on the matter * * * I know some say it won't work in the auto industry. But how can they say that when it's never been tried. I think everything should be tried before we say that it can't work."

Ford and the UAW recently reached agreement on a guaranteer wage plan. GM and the union agreed on a similar one a week later.

SOME CRITICS have labeled the new three-year contracts "creeping socialism" which roused this comment from Ford:

"A lot of people call everything we do creeping socialism. They called Social Security that and they called pensions that. * * * Every time we do something new, people cry that it's either communism of socialism. we have to keep up with the times."

faster than any previous method," and could thus aid in the identification of biological agents that might be spread by an enemy.

CREASY SAID also that in addition to individual gas masks and complicated mechanisms to provide protection against gas and germ warfare in larger buildings, there is now a new kind of wallboard which families could use to line bomb shelters.

This board is made of fibers, impregnated with activated charcoal which acts as a filter that will keep out biological agents, atomic or radioactive dust and at the same time permit the escape of carbon dioxide and vapors from occupants of the shelter, he said.

Reunited Flyers Plan Air Force Program, June 26

An American flyer was shot down over Rheine, Germany, 10 years ago while on a strafing mission.

The pilot was Emil L. Sluga, now an air force colonel and base commander of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh.

Flying wingman for the downed pilot was Lt. Ralph J. Nicodemus who saw him bail out and watched while he made a safe landing. Nicodemus then returned to England. At that time they were flying with the 355th Fighter Group, Eighth Air Force. Col. Sluga was taken prisoner by the Germans—it was March 21, 1945, the first day of spring—and was liberated at the close of the war a couple of months later.

Lt. Nicodemus, a resident of Kingston, is affiliated with the 9267th Air Reserve Squadron which on Sunday, June 26, is sponsoring an Air Force Reserve Preparedness Day program at Dietz Stadium.

Toady a happy reunion took place when Lt. Nicodemus and other members of the 9267th Air Reserve Squadron, Kingston, visited Stewart Field to seek assistance for the Preparedness Day program.

During the 10 years following the war Col. Sluga saw service with the Air Tactical School, Tyndall Air Field, Fla., and helped activate the squadron officer course of the Air University, Maxwell Field, Ala. He spent 30 months in the Far East, the last 28 months as commandant of the Far East Air Ground Operations School in Japan.

Visiting Stewart Air Force Base with Lt. Nicodemus were Maj. Fuller, Maj Rinaldi, Capt. Seifts, Lt. Conrad and Maj. Edward V. DeGroff of the 9267th Squadron. Preparedness Day will be held in Poughkeepsie Saturday, June 25, and in Kingston June 26.

The programs are designed to bring to public attention in the two cities exhibits, displays and aircraft demonstrating many phases of air force activity. Some 20 or 30 thousand persons are expected to attend the exercises at Dutchess County Airport, Poughkeepsie, and Dietz Stadium, Kingston.

Air force displays from Stewart AFB and other installations will be shown in store windows and at the airport and stadium on the two days. The Air Reserve Squadron is planning to have several types of aircraft, fire equipment, snow removal equipment, radio and electronic units, a guided missile and other items on display for citizens interested in the air force and its reserve outfits.

The cancer death rate among U. S. surgeons is only 66 per cent of the rate for the entire population.

Churchill Sees

the unveiling of the slightly larger-than-life bronze statue.

IN A TONE of sadness, Churchill voiced regret that "my dear wife, without whom I should certainly not have deserved this reward," was not able to attend the ceremony.

Lady Churchill is confined to her home with a broken wrist suffered in a recent fall in their home.

Whimsical over the tributes paid him, Churchill said:

"I am most grateful to you, my lord mayor, for the great kindness with which you have spoken about my work and character and I shall not hesitate to include it among my testimonials if ever I should be looking for another job.

"I must admit that I think the House of Commons has made a good rule in not erecting monuments to people in their lifetime. But I entirely agree that every rule should have an exception.

"THE FACT that you have done so in my case will both prove the rule and emphasize the compliment."

The statue was by sculptor Oscar Nemon.

Churchill, who wasn't at all pleased with the painting presented to him by Parliament on his 80th birthday, was pleased with the statue.

"I greatly admire the art of Mr. Oscar Nemon, whose prowess in the ancient realm of sculpture has won such remarkable modern appreciation," he said.

"I also admire this particular example . . . because It seems to be such a very good likeness."

THE OLD WARRIOR was alternately in a reminiscent mood and in the mood of a statesman looking ahead.

"I do not feel that our generation has any need to be abashed before our ancestors, or the famous ages of our history of which this hall so vividly reminds us," he said.

"But now I leave the past, and I leave the present. It is to the future that we must turn our gaze.

"I confess that, like Disraeli, I am on the side of the optimists. I do not believe that humanity is going to destroy itself.

"I HAVE FOR some time thought it would be a good thing if the leaders of the great nations talked freely to one another without too much of the formality of diplomacy. I am very glad that this is now going to happen and we could have no one more capable of representing us than our present prime minister.

"We must not count upon complete and immediate success. Whatever is the outcome, we must persevere in the maintenance of peace through strength, for that is our theme.

"A period of relaxation of tension may well be all that is now within one grasp. Even so, such a phase would not be sterile."

MASKED MARVEL—The U.S. Army's highly trained war dogs are so important in combat that they have their own gas masks to be worn in case of enemy attack. Here a scout dog and his handler participate in mock gas attack during maneuvers in Germany.

5 Youngsters Die In Traffic Accident

Somerville, N. J., June 21 (AP) —Death claimed five young lives near here last night in a headon truck-car collision. A sixth youth was critically injured.

The victims, returning from a church league softball game, crossed the center line of Rt. 206 to pass another car and smashed into the trailer truck loaded with 10-inch cement sewer pipe.

The truck jackknifed, and both car and truck rolled into an embankment, the pipes spilling on the road.

STATE POLICE identified the four young men and teen-age girl killed, all residents of Bradley Gardens, as Ralph Horton, 19, of Maple street, driver of the car; Francis Trout, 26; Stephen Chonko, 17, Robert Lawyer, 15; and Lawanda Serofino, 17.

Still in critical condition at Somerset Hospital is 17-year-old James Cordick.

The driver of the truck, Herman Walsh, 30, of Rosendale, N. Y., was treated for knee injury and shock and released.

An eyewitness, William Daughaday, Martinsville insurance man, told police the youngsters passed him and several other cars minutes before smashing into the truck.

Daughaday said he saw the lights of the truck, then heard a scream, saw a cloud of dust and pipes flying everywhere.

Cases on Monday In County Court

Conrad C. Tubbs, 37, Highland, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny Monday in County Court and was sentenced to a year in jail, with credit being given for the time already served. He was charged with having been involved in issuance of a bad check. Harry Gold appeared for Tubbs and told the court Tubbs was ill and when he suffered from one of the spells he drank and then issued checks. District Attorney Howard C. St. John asked the court to impose the limit of sentence which could be imposed under the plea taken. Tubbs, he said, had been permitted to plead to the lesser charge before but if it were necessary to impose a prison sentence, then his family would suffer and for that reason the plea to the lesser charge was acceptable, however he felt the limit permitted under the plea should be imposed. Judge Cashin imposed the year sentence and dismissed the other counts of the indictment.

Raymond LeRoy Koontz, 20, Walden, who was charged with having taken the car of a friend without permission, was sentenced to 95 days in jail, that time being the amount he had served. James Abernethy appeared for the defendant and told the court it would be difficult to prove a grand larceny charge, since the value of the car taken could be challenged.

Robert L. Doucette, 25, of Massachusetts who was charged with grand larceny, second degree, for the taking of a car belonging to Ben Slutsky, was sentenced to Clinton Prison for a term of from 1½ to 3 years. Credit was given for the time served in jail. Louis DiDonna appeared for defendant. A second count of the indictment was dismissed. Edward Myers, a co-defendant in the same case, had his case put over the term on motion of Charles Saccoman, counsel.

James Andrew Johnson, 20, Sawkill, asked for a hearing under Section 438 of the Correction Law, through his counsel William D. Brinnier, and the hearing was set down for today.

Joseph J. Sweeney, 43, of Big Indian, charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a second offender, entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving and was given a year in jail, execution of sentence being suspended and he was placed on probation. District Attorney St. John said the plea was accepted since no blood test had been made at the time of arrest. Sweeney was cautioned his license might be revoked. Charles Saccoman appeared for the defendant and asked that bail be exonerated.

Francis Martocci was assigned as counsel to William Henderson and that case was moved over the term and bail continued.

A jury was taken in a civil action, Rodney Finley against Jacob Gray and others, an action to recover a chattel and damages for the taking thereof. H. Edgar Timmerman for plaintiff and Thomas J. Plunket for defendant.

Harold Carney, 39, Kingston, charged with obstructing a public officer in the performance of his duty, alleged to have taken place last February 19, entered a plea of guilty to that charge. A petition was filed by District Attorney Howard C. St. John charging Carney with violation of probation imposed on February 8 when a six-months jail sentence was suspended. The former suspension of probation was removed and Judge Cashin imposed a three-month jail sentence on the charge of violation of probation and also three months jail in the present action. Both sentences will run concurrently. Bail was exonerated. Hubert Richter appeared for Carney.

John Carr entered a plea of guilty to assault, second degree, and sentence will be imposed on Wednesday afternoon. Carr is accused of assault on Shirley Carr, in that he discharged a firearm at her on March 9, 1955. Charles Saccoman appeared for Carr.

Joseph J. Bentley appeared in court on a charge of probation violation in that he failed to meet payments to his family as directed. The case was held open since he made a deposit on the back payments and promised to meet the payments directed in Children's court. Seymour Werbalowski appeared for defendant.

2 North Koreans

11 a. m. from Munsunri air field near Pyongyang, North Korean capital, in their Yak 18. The Yak is a single enginer propellor driven fighter-bomber.

The Communists used the Yak in early stages of the Korean war. Yaks dropped many bombs on Seoul early in the Reds' 1950 southward sweep in their surprise invasion of South Korea. Now the plane is used as an advanced fighter trainer.

ROK OFFICERS said the two North Koreans crossed the truce zone at a hedge-hopping 50 feet to escape radar detection. Their YAK started buzzing the Seoul airport about 1 p. m.

They said the control tower, manned by Americans and Koreans, at first thought the YAK was a British plane. When the plane failed to answer a radio call, a Korean noticed the Communist insignia.

It was given an immediate "come in" signal.

Brig. Gen. Kim Shin and other ROK air officers met the YAK at the end of the runway. The North Koreans told General Shin, "We want to surrender."

Explorer, 64, Dies

Southport, England, June 20 (AP) — Frederick John Hooper, Antarctic explorer who found the body of Capt. Robert Scott near the South Pole, died yesterday at his home here. He was 64. Hooper sailed around the world three times before joining Scott's last expedition in 1912, at the age of 18. When Scott failed to return from an advance exploratory trip, Hooper went out with a search party. Spotting a small pole sticking out of the snow, he unearthed Scott's last camp.

Hasbrouck Bond Received by Chief

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who is due to retire this month after more than half a century in the local fire service, today revealed that among recent tributes paid to him was a $100 bond from Hasbrouck Engine Company of Connelly.

The chief received the bond, he said, last week while the convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association was in progress here, and he expressed appreciation for the thought and consideration represented in the gift from a neighboring fire company.

Plans Seem . . .

nouncement since last month's British elections.

President Eisenhower's opening address was praised by other delegates as excellent and inspirational.

The President, speaking yesterday afternoon, pledged that he would uphold the principles of the UN charter at the Geneva conference. He declared this is a "season of high hope" for world peace.

"The United States will leave no stone unturned to work for peace," he said. "We shall reject no method, however novel, that holds out any hope however faint."

ALTHOUGH he promised that the United States would do its best to make the Geneva talks a success, he declined to make any predictions. He said:

"Whether or not we shall then reach the initial decisions that will start dismantling the terrible apparatus of fear and distrust and weapons erected since the end of World War 2, I do not know."

Macmillan said the President's speech "gave a very fine start to the conference." Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak called the speech inspirational, Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines described it as "excellent . . . a very strong speech which the United Nations should take to heart."

THERE WAS NO comment from Molotov, who later met the President at a reception and exchanged pleasantries.

Eisenhower left for Washington in his private plane last night, aproximately 24 hours after his arrival.

Meanwhile, it appeared almost certain that the 60 nations would conclude their session Sunday by adopting a peace pledge which would be known as the San Francisco Declaration.

Molotov brought up the issue at last night's big four talks. He was told by the western diplomats that this was no time for resolutions, but they said they would not object to some sort of peace declaration by the president of the San Francisco meetings, Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens of the Netherlands.

WHEN MOLOTOV first raised the question Sunday in a talk with UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold he indicated he favored the adoption of a formal resolution pledging peaceful aims.

Romulo, a former president of the UN Assembly, came up with the concept of having a declaration instead of a resolution.

Van Kleffens was reported to favor something like the Romulo proposal. He was understood to have suggested to Molotov that the same purpose could be served by a declaration by the presiding officer pointing up the unanimous wish of the delegates for peace.

Romulo said he would be happy with a statement by Van Kleffens.

"I feel," he said, "that we should in some general way express the universal yearning for peace. We should not leave San Francisco without some statement, subscribed to by all of us, that will commit the 60 member nations to a course of peaceful negotiations."

Picked Up on Warrant

John Sisco, 20, who gave his home address as Jefferson street, Orange, N. J., was arrested at Gardiner by state police of the Highland station on a "fugitive from justice" warrant based on a charge of rape placed against him by authorities at Parsippany, N. J., troopers reported today. Taken into custody Monday about noon, Sisco was placed in the Ulster county jail to await arrival of New Jersey authorities. Troopers said he was a serviceman on furlough.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Nature provides food for the birds, but does not put it in their nests. We have people in Government who want to reverse nature. They want to provide for the citizens, as wards of the Government. But the wards work to care for their caretakers.

Mr. Hutton

There are good and bad people. The good outnumber the bad. But the bad are organized; the good are not, so they lack political power.

The weakness of goodness works more harm in the world than the strength of evil. Goodness, if organized, could do good, just as organized evil does harm.

"Fish go rotten first at the head." The same applies to nations ruled by evil men.

Today, most of the Central and South American countries are ruled by dictators. They war on one another.

The victors count their gains. The soldiers count their pigs, just as the dictators of the Kremlin count their "captive" people, who are treated as pigs.

"The penalty good men pay for indifference to public affairs is to be ruled by evil men."

The first objective of a dictator is to loot the liberties of the people.

Neighbor, speak up! Silence is suicidal!

Big Four Leaders Are To Get Tight Security

Geneva, June 21 (AP)—Any celebrity-loving Swiss who succeeds in getting a long look at one of the Big Four leaders here next month will become a celebrity himself.

President Eisenhower, Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Edgar Faure are going to get security rarely accorded any visiting dignitary in Switzerland.

Swiss police have never forgotten that someone threw a tomato at the late Eva Peron, when the Argentine president's wife was touring Switzerland in 1947. The tomato missed Mrs. Peron, but hit Swiss Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre, seated beside her in an automobile.

FOUR COMPANIES of Swiss troops will help police guard the hotels and villas where the delegates will live. They will patrol every foot of road along which the Big Four ride and guard airplanes at Geneva Airport on a 24-hour schedule.

In their calculations, Swiss security officials went into the recent political history of the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Britain.

They studied the police reports of the shooting in the U. S. House of Representatives last year. They looked into the earlier attack on President Truman's residence, Blair House.

BECAUSE of French difficulties in Morocco, police have been told to keep out a close watch for Moroccan extremists in the protection of Prime Minister Faure. Avid anti-Communists will be watched in Bulganin's interest.

Eden will live in the Villa Reposoir on the edge of Geneva, where he stayed during the Asian conference last year. Swiss troops will surround the Villa during the conference. Swiss policemen will be stationed at the entrance and a Swiss security officer will be inside with the prime minister's own security men.

The Geneva police and detective force will be strengthened by the addition of detectives from all other Swiss cantons. They will keep a close watch on the French border, which touches the outskirts of Geneva on three sides.

BULGANIN is expected to stay at the villa occupied by the permanent Russian delegation in Geneva—the former headquarters of the Lithuanian delegation to the League of Nations. The rest of the Russians will live in the Hotel Metropole. The entire hotel has been placed at their disposal so there can be plenty of security.

Faure is expected to live in a villa, still not chosen. As far as is known, President Eisenhower will stay at the Rhone Hotel overlooking the Rhone river. Secretary of State Dulles lived there during last year's conference.

HOTELS USED by delegations and delegation heads will be inspected by Swiss detectives every morning. All hotel employes will be investigated. Swiss detectives will be on duty at the hotels 24 hours a day to assist the security forces of the delegation.

The conference likely will be held in the council chamber of the United Nations Building, the old league headquarters used last year for the conference on Korea and Indochina.

Although President Eisenhower is the only one of the four leaders who is both head of state and head of government, he will receive the same honors as Eden, Faure and Bulganin. He will be greeted at the airport by Swiss President Max Petitpierre, Geneva officials and a guard of honor—as will the other three. There will then disappear, as far as the public is concerned, into the maze of security planned for them.

After the broadcast, Mrs. Hobby issued a statement in which she said her remarks about health service responsibilities "should not be interpreted in any way as criticism of the U. S. Surgeon General or the Public Health Service. They are serving the public with all the scientific knowledge at their command."

DURING THE broadcast, Mrs. Hobby had said, "I want to make it clear that I am not dissatisfield with the Surgeon General."

Asked if she had any legal right to overrule Scheele if she thought he had erred, Mr. Hobby replied, "I have none."

The secretary also was asked about her recent statement before a Congressional Committee that "no one could have foreseen" the demand for the Salk vaccine. She replied:

"That is a good question. It is a question I asked myself. Why couldn't they anticipate the demand? The answer came back that there was never before any such demand. There never before was anything like it."

Cases on Monday In County Court

Conrad C. Tubbs, 37, Highland, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny Monday in County Court and was sentenced to a year in jail, with credit being given for the time already served. He was charged with having been involved in issuance of a bad check. Harry Gold appeared for Tubbs and told the court Tubbs was ill and when he suffered from one of the spells he drank and then issued checks. District Attorney Howard C. St. John asked the court to impose the limit of sentence which could be imposed under the plea taken. Tubbs, he said, had been permitted to plead to the lesser charge before but if it were necessary to impose a prison sentence, then his family would suffer and for that reason the plea to the lesser charge was acceptable, however he felt the limit permitted under the plea should be imposed. Judge Cashin imposed the year sentence and dismissed the other counts of the indictment.

Raymond LeRoy Koontz, 20, Walden, who was charged with having taken the car of a friend without permission, was sentenced to 95 days in jail, that time being the amount he had served. James Abernethy appeared for the defendant and told the court it would be difficult to prove a grand larceny charge, since the value of the car taken could be challenged.

Robert L. Doucette, 25, of Massachusetts who was charged with grand larceny, second degree, for the taking of a car belonging to Ben Slutsky, was sentenced to Clinton Prison for a term of from 1½ to 3 years. Credit was given for the time served in jail. Louis DiDonna appeared for defendant. A second count of the indictment was dismissed. Edward Myers, a co-defendant in the same case, had his case put over the term on motion of Charles Saccoman, counsel.

James Andrew Johnson, 20, Sawkill, asked for a hearing under Section 438 of the Correction Law, through his counsel William D. Brinnier, and the hearing was set down for today.

Joseph J. Sweeney, 43, of Big Indian, charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a second offender, entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving and was given a year in jail, execution of sentence being suspended and he was placed on probation. District Attorney St. John said the plea was accepted since no blood test had been made at the time of arrest. Sweeney was cautioned his license might be revoked. Charles Saccoman appeared for the defendant and asked that bail be exonerated.

Francis Martocci was assigned as counsel to William Henderson and that case was moved over the term and bail continued.

A jury was taken in a civil action, Rodney Finley against Jacob Gray and others, an action to recover a chattel and damages for the taking thereof. H. Edgar Timmerman for plaintiff and Thomas J. Plunket for defendant.

Harold Carney, 39, Kingston, charged with obstructing a public officer in the performance of his duty, alleged to have taken place last February 19, entered a plea of guilty to that charge. A petition was filed by District Attorney Howard C. St. John charging Carney with violation of probation imposed on February 8 when a six-months jail sentence was suspended. The former suspension of probation was removed and Judge Cashin imposed a three-month jail sentence on the charge of violation of probation and also three months jail in the present action. Both sentences will run concurrently. Bail was exonerated. Hubert Richter appeared for Carney.

John Carr entered a plea of guilty to assault, second degree, and sentence will be imposed on Wednesday afternoon. Carr is accused of assault on Shirley Carr, in that he discharged a firearm at her on March 9, 1955. Charles Saccoman appeared for Carr.

Joseph J. Bentley appeared in court on a charge of probation violation in that he failed to meet payments to his family as directed. The case was held open since he made a deposit on the back payments and promised to meet the payments directed in Children's court. Seymour Werbalowski appeared for defendant.

2 North Koreans

11 a. m. from Munsunri air field near Pyongyang, North Korean capital, in their Yak 18. The Yak is a single enginer propellor driven fighter-bomber.

The Communists used the Yak in early stages of the Korean war. Yaks dropped many bombs on Seoul early in the Reds' 1950 southward sweep in their surprise invasion of South Korea. Now the plane is used as an advanced fighter trainer.

ROK OFFICERS said the two North Koreans crossed the truce zone at a hedge-hopping 50 feet to escape radar detection. Their YAK started buzzing the Seoul airport about 1 p. m.

They said the control tower, manned by Americans and Koreans, at first thought the YAK was a British plane. When the plane failed to answer a radio call, a Korean noticed the Communist insignia.

It was given an immediate "come in" signal.

Brig. Gen. Kim Shin and other ROK air officers met the YAK at the end of the runway. The North Koreans told General Shin, "We want to surrender."

Explorer, 64, Dies

Southport, England, June 20 (AP) — Frederick John Hooper, Antarctic explorer who found the body of Capt. Robert Scott near the South Pole, died yesterday at his home here. He was 64. Hooper sailed around the world three times before joining Scott's last expedition in 1912, at the age of 18. When Scott failed to return from an advance exploratory trip, Hooper went out with a search party. Spotting a small pole sticking out of the snow, he unearthed Scott's last camp.

Hasbrouck Bond Received by Chief

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who is due to retire this month after more than half a century in the local fire service, today revealed that among recent tributes paid to him was a $100 bond from Hasbrouck Engine Company, of Connelly.

The chief received the bond, he said, last week while the convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association was in progress here, and he expressed appreciation for the thought and consideration represented in the gift from a neighboring fire company.

Plans Seem . . .

nouncement since last month's British elections.

President Eisenhower's opening address was praised by other delegates as excellent and inspirational.

The President, speaking yesterday afternoon, pledged that he would uphold the principles of the UN charter at the Geneva conference. He declared this is a "season of high hope" for world peace.

"The United States will leave no stone unturned to work for peace," he said. "We shall reject no method, however novel, that holds out any hope however faint."

ALTHOUGH he promised that the United States would do its best to make the Geneva talks a success, he declined to make any predictions. He said:

"Whether or not we shall then reach the initial decisions that will start dismantling the terrible apparatus of fear and distrust and weapons erected since the end of World War 2, I do not know."

Macmillan said the President's speech "gave a very fine start to the conference." Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak called the speech inspirational, Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines described it as "excellent . . . a very strong speech which the United Nations should take to heart."

THERE WAS NO comment from Molotov, who later met the President at a reception and exchanged pleasantries.

Eisenhower left for Washington in his private plane last night, aproximately 24 hours after his arrival.

Meanwhile, it appeared almost certain that the 60 nations would conclude their session Sunday by adopting a peace pledge which would be known as the San Francisco Declaration.

Molotov brought up the issue at last night's big four talks. He was told by the western diplomats that this was no time for resolutions, but they said they would not object to some sort of peace declaration by the president of the San Francisco meetings, Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens of the Netherlands.

WHEN MOLOTOV first raised the question Sunday in a talk with UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold he indicated he favored the adoption of a formal resolution pledging peaceful aims.

Romulo, a former president of the UN Assembly, came up with the concept of having a declaration instead of a resolution.

Van Kleffens was reported to favor something like the Romulo proposal. He was understood to have suggested to Molotov that the same purpose could be served by a declaration by the presiding officer pointing up the unanimous wish of the delegates for peace.

Romulo said he would be happy with a statement by Van Kleffens.

"I feel," he said, "that we should in some general way express the universal yearning for peace. We should not leave San Francisco without some statement, subscribed to by all of us, that will commit the 60 member nations to a course of peaceful negotiations."

Picked Up on Warrant

John Sisco, 20, who gave his home address as Jefferson street, Orange, N. J., was arrested at Gardiner by state police of the Highland station on a "fugitive from justice" warrant based on a charge of rape placed against him by authorities at Parsippany, N. J., troopers reported today. Taken into custody Monday about noon, Sisco was placed in the Ulster county jail to await arrival of New Jersey authorities. Troopers said he was a serviceman on furlough.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Nature provides food for the birds, but does not put it in their nests. We have people in Government who want to reverse nature. They want to provide for the citizens, as wards of the Government. But the wards work to care for their caretakers.

Mr. Hutton

There are good and bad people. The good outnumber the bad. But the bad are organized; the good are not, so they lack political power.

The weakness of goodness works more harm in the world than the strength of evil. Goodness, if organized, could do good, just as organized evil does harm.

"Fish go rotten first at the head." The same applies to nations ruled by evil men.

Today, most of the Central and South American countries are ruled by dictators. They war on one another.

The victors count their gains. The soldiers count their pigs, just as the dictators of the Kremlin count their "captive" people, who are treated as pigs.

"The penalty good men pay for indifference to public affairs is to be ruled by evil men."

The first objective of a dictator is to loot the liberties of the people.

Neighbor, speak up! Silence is suicidal!

Big Four Leaders Are To Get Tight Security

Geneva, June 21 (AP)—Any celebrity-loving Swiss who succeeds in getting a long look at one of the Big Four leaders here next month will become a celebrity himself.

President Eisenhower, Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Edgar Faure are going to get security rarely accorded any visiting dignitary in Switzerland.

Swiss police have never forgotten that someone threw a tomato at the late Eva Peron, when the Argentine president's wife was touring Switzerland in 1947. The tomato missed Mrs. Peron, but hit Swiss Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre, seated beside her in an automobile.

FOUR COMPANIES of Swiss troops will help police guard the hotels and villas where the delegates will live. They will patrol every foot of road along which the Big Four ride and guard airplanes at Geneva Airport on a 24-hour schedule.

In their calculations, Swiss security officials went into the recent political history of the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Britain.

They studied the police reports of the shooting in the U. S. House of Representatives last year. They looked into the earlier attack on President Truman's residence, Blair House.

BECAUSE of French difficulties in Morocco, police have been told to keep out a close watch for Moroccan extremists in the protection of Prime Minister Faure. Avid anti-Communists will be watched in Bulganin's interest.

Eden will live in the Villa Reposoir on the edge of Geneva, where he stayed during the Asian conference last year. Swiss troops will surround the Villa during the conference. Swiss policemen will be stationed at the entrance and a Swiss security officer will be inside with the prime minister's own security men.

The Geneva police and detective force will be strengthened by the addition of detectives from all other Swiss cantons. They will keep a close watch on the French border, which touches the outskirts of Geneva on three sides.

BULGANIN is expected to stay at the villa occupied by the permanent Russian delegation in Geneva—the former headquarters of the Lithuanian delegation to the League of Nations. The rest of the Russians will live in the Hotel Metropole. The entire hotel has been placed at their disposal so there can be plenty of security.
